5 TO 8-YEAR TERMS FOR 22 FREEDOMITES

NELSON (CP)—Twenty-two Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were sentenced to terms ranging from five to eight years today on charges of bombing, arson or attempted arson.

They were found guilty by juries at a special Assize here during the last three weeks.

Before passing sentence Mr. Justice H. W. MacInnes called on the men to become useful and productive, instead of destructive, citizens.

He said that during their trials some of the accused asked him to help solve the Doukhobor problem. He replied: "You continually speak of the Doukhobor problem. Some of you have even asked me to assist in the solution of your problem. I am by no means clear as to what your problem actually is, if one in fact actually exists."

Ottawa Now Sure Date Is June 18

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today said he would announce early next week his plans for dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

Diefenbaker, in another election indicator, also sent Opposition leader Lester B. Pearson a note inviting the Liberal chieftain to meet him this afternoon.

The Prime Minister's purpose presumably was to show Pearson the courtesy of letting him in on dissolution plans in advance.

June 18 is the expected date of the election, with dissolution coming any time between Monday and Wednesday.

Diefenbaker made his statement to the Commons after Vancouver East MP Harold Winch of the New Democratic Party pleaded for an indication of the date.

"I think I will be in a position early in the week to make a full statement on this question," the Prime Minister said, "so the honorable members will be able to do what the member suggests they do."

"I will answer his question in the fullest detail."

Tory Members Get Jump in Planning

Diefenbaker's statement was greeted with extended desultory applause from both sides of the Commons.

Meantime, government MPs Thursday night began preparations for a June 18 federal election.

They gathered in an extraordinary election strategy session in the Commons' railway committee room and made no effort to conceal their preparations.

The meeting was closed to the press but when it ended MPs emerged smiling and many of them confidently asserted that June 18 would be the day.

They would not be quoted by name about matters dealt with because the meeting, which lasted 75 minutes, was supposed to be a Tory caucus and MPs are forbidden by party discipline to disclose caucus discussions.

Magazine Curb Set for January 1

OTTAWA (CP)—The government proposes to prohibit the importation of special Canadian editions of foreign magazines starting Jan. 1, 1963.

Revenue Minister Nowlan gave notice today in the Commons journals of a resolution leading to introduction of an amendment to the customs tariff carrying out the government's undertaking to implement part of the royal commission on publications recommendations.

The amendment would empower the cabinet to pass orders-in-council declaring what special editions of foreign magazines would be exempt from the duty.

A second resolution said amendments would be made to the Income Tax Act disqualifying advertisers from any deduction from taxable income starting in 1963 for advertisements placed in non-Canadian periodicals and directed to the Canadian market.

The second resolution added that deductions would be allowed "in part"—without specifying the amount—for advertisements placed in magazines edited in Canada but published under licence by a foreign publisher.

Periodicals with a circulation of less than 5,000 copies an issue and periodicals devoted to medical or religious subjects would be exempt from the new law if they were being printed, published and edited in Canada for one year prior to Jan. 22, 1962.

Bill of Rights Hits 'Best Seller' List

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bill of Rights is making money for the federal treasury, the Commons was told today.

"It's a best-seller," Finance Minister Fleming said.

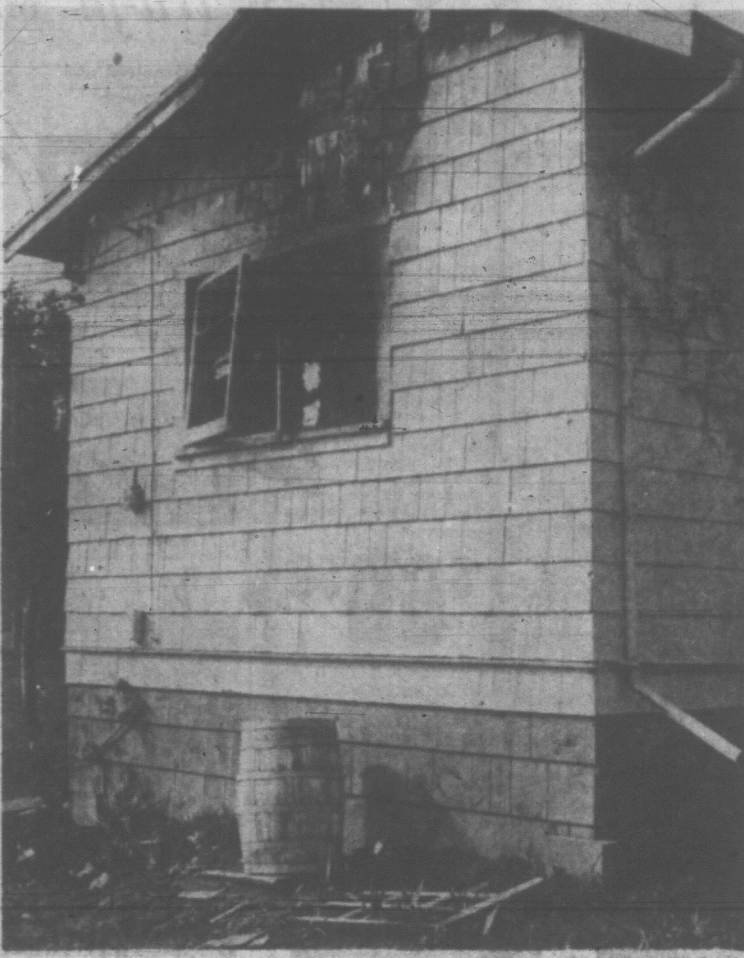

It costs 30 cents to produce and is selling for $1. Of 20,000 copies printed, 14,500 had been sold and more orders were coming in.

Mr. Fleming was replying to a charge Thursday night by John R. Matheson (L-Leeds) that distribution of the Bill of Rights in the form of a large illuminated document with gold scrollwork, fancy print and Prime Minister Diefenbaker's signature was "misuse of public funds."

Mr. Matheson said it should be "put down as part of a Progressive Conservative expense account."

Mr. Fleming, during today's debate on Queen's Printer expenditures, said Mr. Matheson had "splattered all over the record some of the most misleading statements" ever heard in the Commons.

ESCAPE ROUTE FOR THREE

Behind these blackened windows a baby boy burned to death today as his frantic father stood on the barrel and tried vainly to climb through the flames to his son. Three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Lodewyk Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, were pulled to safety through the window although one is in just fair condition. Father, clad only in pair of trousers trod through hot glass shards in rescue attempt.

WIRE BRIEFS

Jodoin Re-Elected

(See page 32)
VANCOUVER (CP)—Claude Jodoin was re-elected today as president of the Canadian Labor Congress.

Reds Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP)—Communist guerrillas today overran a South Vietnamese government military watchtower in a daring raid only 10 miles west of Saigon.

Dutch Ship First

MONTREAL (CP)—The Dutch freighter Prins Maurits docked in Montreal today, becoming the first ship to sail this far up the St. Lawrence River without a pilot this season.

Tax Aid Sought

VANCOUVER (CP)—City council said Thursday part of municipal taxes on homes should be deductible from personal income tax. The council voted to send a resolution on the matter to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Winnipeg June 11-15.

NEW BOND ISSUE

The premier also said there may be a new bond issue floated for his B.C. Hydro Authority.

He said there will be an announcement "in due course."

The money is expected to be for financing the Peace River power project, already under way.

Mr. Bennett said today that

Bennett Asks Columbia OK Before Election

Premier Bennett has sent a telegram to Ottawa calling for ratification of the Columbia River Treaty before Parliament is dissolved for a federal election.

Mr. Bennett said at a brief press conference today that he sent the wire to Finance Minister Donald Fleming Thursday.

He also said he has asked the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority to prepare plans for calling tenders on the three Columbia dams involved in the treaty.

But he denied reports that he was having difficulty in finding backers.

He said an article in the magazine Business Week which started these reports was "completely false."

He said when he was in New York he did not go seeking interviews with Wall Street financiers—"They visited me at their request."

"We did not discuss the Peace River at any time; we did discuss Columbia River financing."

"They were very anxious to do business with the government."

JOUHAUD TO DIE

PARIS (AP)—A special high military court tonight sentenced ex-general Edmond Jouhaud to death on charges of participating in the Algiers generals' putsch last April and being active in the outlawed European Secret Army Organization.

Steel Price Boosters Lose Jobs

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corporation today rescinded its $6-a-ton increase in steel.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon today ordered defence contractors and their suppliers to shift steel purchases to those American companies which have not raised prices.

The action was announced by Defence Secretary McNamara.

In a statement and brief press conference, McNamara also said:

1. If the steel price increase "fans out" across the United States economy, national defence costs could rise $1,000,000,000 or more a year.

2. The impact of increased costs could affect the dollar balance abroad and "we cannot expect to maintain our prices overseas if our trade balance does not improve."

3. At the direction of President Kennedy, the Pentagon is examining possible substitutes for steel.

Firm to Hold Price Line

CHICAGO (AP)—The Inland Steel Company broke the chain of price increases by American steel firms today by announcing it will not make any changes in prices at this time.

The company, in an action which may cause price-boosting firms to reconsider, issued this statement:

"Inland Steel Co. today announced that it will not make any adjustments in existing prices of its steel mill products at this time."

"The company has long recognized the need for improvement in steel industry profits in relation to capital invested. It believes this condition, which does exist today, will have to be corrected."

"Nevertheless, in full recognition of the national interest and competitive factors, the company feels that it is untimely to make any upward adjustments."

"Very Good" Says Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today applauded Inland Steel Company's decision to hold the steel price line.

Advised that the eighth-largest producer in the United States had announced that it would not go along with other major steel firms in a price boost, Kennedy's reaction was "good, good; very good."

He made the remark on the White House doorstep after escorting the visiting Shah of Iran to a waiting limousine.

Nine-Year-Old's Condition 'Fair'

A nine-month-old boy was burned to death early today as his frantic father fought to reach him through flames that ravaged their Helmcken Road home in View Royal.

Dead is Clemens Wertheim-Aymes, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lodewyk Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, opposite View Royal Elementary School.

SEVERE BURNS

A daughter, Gilda, 9, is in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with second degree burns to the arms and head.

Safe are the parents and two other children, Meta, 10, and Clary, 6.

The fire started about 3.30 a.m. and burned out the interior in short order.

The home is uninhabitable and the family is staying with friends in Metehosin.

JUMPED OUT

It is understood Mrs. Wertheim-Aymes awoke first at the smell of smoke and awakened her husband. She jumped out of the bedroom window and ran around the house to the children's bedroom window.

Her husband followed. They put a barrel beside the wall, smashed the window and helped the children out.

First out was Meta, followed by Gilda and Clary.

Mr. Wertheim-Aymes tried to force his way through the window to get little Clemens, who was in a crib in the middle of the room, but roaring flames beat him back.

At this point members of the View Royal volunteer fire department arrived and fireman Frank Andrews, 236 Stormont, forced his way in.

By the time he reached the baby and handed him out, flames and smoke had wrought their grim toll and the child was dead.

SAW SON DIE
Standing outside the house later in the morning Mr. Wertheim-Aymes said he "would rather not talk about it."

"I saw my own son burned while I was unable to save him," he said, "and that is a terrible experience."

It is understood the fire started at or near an oil range and quickly spread through the house.

Liquor Via Room Service For Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Roberts today announced that hotels in Ontario will be permitted to sell liquor in rooms.

The premier's announcement covered about a dozen changes in the province's liquor policy.

The new regulations will permit cocktail bars to remain open for the same hours as dining lounges. Private clubs in dry areas may be licensed.

Tourist establishments in unorganized areas, motels and summer resorts will be eligible for licensing and arrangements will be made for the package sale of alcoholic beverages in summer resort areas.

Nikita Rejects Speedy Test Ban

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today rebuffed an American-British plea to join in speeding a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests, a qualified diplomat reported.

The Soviet premier, in a long reply to Prime Minister Macmillan, described the Western move as propaganda, the informant said.

President Kennedy and Macmillan last Tuesday published terms of a request that Russia allow international inspectors to check any suspicious tremors. Soviet agreement, they said, would clear the way for an early test-ban treaty, but Soviet leaders were said to have argued that he conceded the right of the West to distrust Russian good faith. He said he assumed he had the same right to distrust Western intentions.

Yet, he argued, these suspicions have not led the Soviet Union to demand for safeguards in a nuclear tests "will have to go test-ban treaty."

Macmillan Tuesday sent a terse covering letter stressing to Khrushchev that the "object of verification of suspicious explosions" is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it.

Khrushchev today, according to the source, dwelt at length on this question of East-West suspicion and distrust. The Soviet leader was said to have argued that he conceded the right of the West to distrust Russian good faith. He said he assumed he had the same right to distrust Western intentions.

Yet, he argued, these suspicions have not led the Soviet Union to demand for safeguards in a nuclear tests "will have to go test-ban treaty."

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

APRIL 13
Keenan's, Fashion Saloon held a gala opening, complete with free lunch and drinks on the house.

The fastenings of a scaffolding in front of Yates' new brick building, upon which several bricklayers were at work, gave way and fell to the ground. The workmen escaped injury by clinging to an iron bar which had been driven into the wall.

An accumulation of stagnant water and decaying vegetable matter at the corner of Trowace Alley and Government Street caused a most annoying smell.

Hon. Allen Francis, the newly-appointed U.S. consul, has taken the room previously occupied as the harbor master's office, over St. Ours wharf.

(From Times News Services)

LONDON — Bridegroom Anthony Gill asked an airline Thursday to pay him compensation for falling to deliver his pyjamas while he was on his honeymoon.

"It was ridiculous and almost spoiled our honeymoon," he said in an interview.

Two weeks ago, Tony married Barbara, a pretty 22-year-old. On the way to London Airport the bridegroom said:

"My pyjamas, they're in a suitcase with some other things back at my house."

The friend collected the suitcase and posted it at London Airport.

At the airport in Palma, Majorca, the bridegroom waited. The bag with the pyjamas didn't arrive.

The next day and the following day — still no bag. Hours that the honeymooners should have been spending in the sun they spent at the airport.

Wednesday night, the honeymoon over, Gill returned and discovered that the package had not been seen because customs officers needed a detailed list of the suitcase's contents.

"I want compensation — and a written apology from the airline, British European Airways," said Gill.

His wife said: "He managed to buy just about everything he needed in Majorca — except pyjamas."

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a leader in the Negro civil rights demonstrations, was a luncheon guest here Thursday of the citizens' committee of Charleston County.

The menu: "non-violent juice cocktail, equality chicken salad with passive resistance dressing and freedom fighting hot buttered rolls."

OTTAWA — An embarrassed MP found himself saying Thursday that secretaries of Commons members are streetwalkers.

W. Harold Hicks (PC—Valley) asked in the Commons whether a lounge could be provided for the secretaries.

"We are making streetwalkers of them — oh, pardon me, I didn't mean it that way," he said.

In red-faced confusion he added that he meant providing some place where the secretaries could rest at noon instead of walking along streets.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Clark Cameron is a tub-thumper for tub slumber.

He's down on beds.

He predicts that people some day will sleep in bathtubs filled with salt water kept at body temperature. "A hundred years from now, our descendants will look back on our addiction to beds and be amused."

Cameron, of Trenton, N.J., works for a company that makes bathtubs.

Beds just aren't comfortable, Cameron said today during a tub-thumping tour through Kentucky.

"No matter how soft the beds are or how you wriggle around in them, the skin and muscles on which you lie are being rubbed and squeezed between your bones from above and the mattress and sheet from below," he said.

New Cancer-Virus Link Found By Researchers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Production of cancer in laboratory animals with a virus that commonly causes a severe type of respiratory "cold" in humans was reported today.

The achievement was announced by a group of Texas researchers who said tumors were produced by hamsters with one type of adenovirus — a microbe first isolated from diseased human adenoids nine years ago and now known to have various strains. Effective vaccines against some strains have been developed.

The American Cancer Society, which helped support the research, said the work provides a new stimulus to the theory that some human cancers could be caused by viruses — and thus are possibly open to treatment or prevention by vaccines.

Dr. John Trentin of Baylor University College of Medicine told about the hamster tumor research in a report prepared for the annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research.

Co-authors of the report were Dr. Yoshio Yabe, also of Baylor, and Dr. Grant Taylor of the University of Texas.

INJECT VIRUS

Trentin said cancers were produced in the hamsters by injecting viruses known as Type-12 adenovirus.

That's one of a number of the various types of adenovirus that constitute a common source of respiratory infection among both children and adults.

The type of respiratory ailment caused by the adenovirus differs from the common cold in several respects:

1. The onset is usually more gradual.

2. The symptoms — including fever, chills, runny nose, watering eyes, sore throat, hoarseness, wheezing, cough and a general down-in-the-dumps feeling — are more severe.

3. The malady, disabling but seldom going on to further complications, lasts longer than an ordinary cold.

Trentin said the viruses were injected into the lungs of newborn hamsters, and that after a period of from five to 15 weeks more than 90 per cent of the creatures died of tumors which filled the chest and, in some cases, spread to the liver.

The Central Bank will take all of the second $100 million issue.

U.S. Can Now Detect All Russ Tests

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—Qualified U.S. authorities indicate the United States has the available means of detecting all Soviet nuclear tests in the atmosphere without the need of imposing control posts or other detection devices on Soviet territory.

However, the U.S. would not be prepared at this stage to sign a test ban treaty on atmospheric shots without on-site inspection in Russia because of the possibility Russia might again unleash a massive new series of aerial detonations, these authorities added.

They left open the possibility the U.S. might be willing to consider such a partial ban sometime in the future—but not before the U.S. launches its own series of atmospheric tests later this month.

East-West negotiations on a test ban covering both atmospheric and underground explosions are deadlocked at Geneva by Russia's refusal to open her territory to foreign inspection as proposed by the West. Russia has stated it will resume atmospheric tests if the U.S. does.

Meanwhile, the U.S. public health service says high-altitude radioactive debris from Russia's series last fall is beginning to show up in April showers and in the spring flow of milk. From a health viewpoint, the increase is insignificant, the service said.

When the point was put to this informant that the U.S. could overcome this matter of convincing others by placing the detection system in the hands of an international team, he replied that this could be a possibility and the U.S. might take this approach later—but not now.

He emphasized the U.S. is seeking not only effective inspection and control against surprise detonations but also protection against the possibility that Russia might secretly prepare for new tests.

'No Official Title' On A-Test Protest

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green said today there is "quite a bit of speculation" in a report that Canada has made a formal protest to the United States concerning planned U.S. resumption of nuclear testing this month.

He was asked about the report in the Commons by Paul Martin (L.-Essex East) who noted that Mr. Green had said Thursday Canada has made "representations" in Washington and London concerning the Geneva disarmament conference "including the question of a possible nuclear test ban."

Mr. Green said on his return from Geneva that any resumption of U.S. nuclear testing would be a "setback" for the conference.

The minister said today in reply to Mr. Martin it would not be wise for him to put a title on the exchanges.

Meanwhile it was reported in Washington that Canada has expressed concern over the proposed resumption by the United States of atmospheric nuclear tests but has lodged no formal protest.

The Canadian representatives also urged the U.S. to consider reducing its demands for effective international inspection and control, including on-site inspection in Russia, as a condition for an East-West nuclear test ban treaty.

Funeral Monday For Lake Hill Clubwoman

Mrs. Ethel Annie Simmonds, 81, a charter member of Lake Hill Women's Institute, died suddenly at her home at 4180 Blenkinsop Road Thursday.

A native of Kentworth, England, she came to Victoria in 1908 and married the late Thomas Simmonds, one of the first farmers on Blenkinsop Road. The farm which Mr. Simmonds operated with two of his brothers is now carried on by his son Douglas.

Mr. Simmonds came to Victoria from England with four brothers in 1906. He died here in 1940.

Surviving are four sons in Victoria—Fred, Douglas, Leonard and Gilbert—and one daughter in England, Mrs. James Slater of Southampton.

Funeral services will be held in McCall's chapel Monday at 2:15 p.m., Rev. David Raggs officiating. Interment will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Soviet Strips Beria, Followers Of Decorations

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's ruling presidium has stripped the late Lavrenty P. Beria and 174 members of his secret police in the Stalin era of decorations awarded them during the war.

The order cancelling the awards was one more step in a general program of taking honors away from those who have come under the Communist party ban.

Beria, who was executed in 1953 in the power struggle after Stalin's death, lost the Order of Suvorov First Class, one of the Soviet Union's highest decorations.

The Order of Suvorov also was removed from Ivan Serov and Sergei Kruglov, who were leaders in the security police during the postwar purges under Stalin.

Serov was ousted as head of the police in 1958 but he still shows up at public functions.

Dief's Visit May Be Upset By Macmillan

Prime Minister Diefenbaker may not be able to come to Victoria after all on April 28 because of an Ottawa visit by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Esquimalt - Saanich Conservative MP George Chatterton said Thursday the Victoria date is now "uncertain."

Mr. Macmillan is due in Ottawa April 29.

But, Mr. Chatterton added, he is still hoping Mr. Diefenbaker can make it.

Mr. Chatterton also said that the federal works department has agreed to a $125,000 study of a breakwater to shelter deep-sea ships at Port Renfrew.

He said that Works Minister David Walker had "grave doubts" about the feasibility of the project, but he had persuaded him to hire a private consulting firm to make the study.

Mr. Chatterton said he felt the project offers "vast potentialities."

He also said he is expecting a hard fight in the next federal election, but he is sure the Tories will win.

STREET PERFORMANCE TONIGHT

Dixielanders to Blow Up a Rush for Klondike Night

Mike Turyk's Dixieland Jazz Band will play through Victoria streets tonight to advertise the Rotary Club's Klondike Night, scheduled for April 24 and 25.

The band, mounted on a flat-bed truck, will leave the Royal alite service station on Store Street at 6 p.m., move up Fisgard to Government, turn right and proceed up Government to Broughton. Then it will turn on to Douglas and move out to the Town and Country shopping centre, arriving there at about 6:50 p.m.

Klondike Night will be staged aboard the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Marguerite in the Inner Harbor and proceeds will go to Victoria Rotary Club's special charity, Goodwill Enterprises.

Entertainment aboard the steamer will include a full-course dinner, dancing, bingo and other games of chance.

Refreshments will be served at a number of Klondike-style bars set up throughout the ship.

Rotarians are hoping for an attendance of 3,000 during the two-night event and are now offering 1,500 tickets for each night.

Tickets are priced at $3.50 each.

An average of 325 rainy days annually is recorded at Bahia Falls, in southern Chile.

The Unreformed Senate

FEW CANADIANS WILL DOUBT that the Senate should be reformed. But merely by limiting the age of its members Mr. Diefenbaker is not effectively reforming the Senate. For the age of the Senate is not the important thing. What matters most is its quality, and the method of its appointment.

As it exists now the Senate is the most extraordinary legislative body in the free world—a chamber which can change or veto the decisions of the elected House of Commons and yet is appointed by a single man, the prime minister of the day.

Not only have all our prime ministers, from Macdonald on, appointed the Senate as they pleased but they have often appointed men totally unfit for their duties. A body which the Fathers of Confederation regarded as a vital check on the excesses of democracy, an unprejudiced chamber of second thoughts, became, under Macdonald and all his successors, little more than a refuge for the loyal servants of the ruling party.

Mr. Diefenbaker does not intend to change these almost incredible arrangements. If he is re-elected he will continue to appoint the Senate and, by retiring 26 Liberal senators will immediately pack it with Conservatives.

Even The Ottawa Journal, the most faithful organ of the government, realizes that to change the age of the Senate is to change nothing fundamentally. Indeed, as The Journal warns, this may be a change for the worse.

"If," says The Journal, "a bad appointment is made to the Senate, appointment of a person who is incompetent, who lacks integrity, judgment, political background and maturity, then surely it is small consolation to know that such a person can be got rid of when he reaches 75! On the other hand, if a good appointment is made, of a person of character, judgment and political maturity, then the longer such a person remains in the Senate the better—his best service as a senator could well be long after he is 75."

Let the Young See It

THE FIRST TWO OF THE BIG "Canada at War" television series have appeared on small screens in this country.

This, on the initial samples, is a production in which the National Film Board and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation may take justifiable pride. A great deal of time, money and talent has gone into its preparation.

In authentic and graphic form "Canada at War" can give a visual and impressive picture of the nation in a time of great trial growing up to the demands made upon it. If succeeding installments match the first two, the series will have great historic value.

But why does it come on the screen at 10.30 at night? By that hour children are in bed, or should be. They are the very ones who have little immediate knowledge of the trials and challenges through which their country passed in the years leading up to 1939 and continuing beyond 1945. If this significant document is to accomplish its highest purpose, the young people are the ones who should learn from it.

Surely, for this reason alone, some more suitable time should be found for its showing. Starting at 10.30 is too late.

Good Man for UBC

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH Columbia is to be complimented on the appointment of Mr. Lloyd Detweiler as consultant on planning of the university's health-sciences centre and hospital, and its administrator when the centre is completed.

This is a natural move for Mr. Detweiler whose abilities, experience and specialized training equip him well for the new post.

As a senior civil servant of the British Columbia government, as a successful student of economics and statistics, as a graduate student of hospital administration and as an informed person with practical experience in the latter field, he should add strength to the excellent personnel gathered at Point Grey.

His many friends wish him well in work he will pioneer at the university.

An Attractive Project

BY VOTING ON APRIL 17 TO grant a 30-year lease to the proposed marina, Oak Bay residents will assure themselves, and Greater Victoria, of an attractive and lasting asset at no cost to the ratepayers.

With extensive berthing facilities for boats of all kinds, a restaurant, and other amenities in a building designed to enhance the excellent site, the new marina will fill a growing need by boatmen for adequate accommodation at Oak Bay.

Under the lease arrangements the marina will pay full taxes, and the property will revert to the municipality at the end of the 30-year term.

It would seem that only one thing could prevent the necessary possible apathy based on an assumption by many of those in favor that someone else will do the balloting.

Short on Enthusiasm

MR. GEORGE HEES, WITH characteristic optimism, has tabled in Parliament the estimates of public and private investment plans for 1962.

They indicate an increase of six per cent over last year and the public is informed that a significantly large proportion of the gross national product is to be devoted to "the expansion, modernization and renewal of the nation's productive capacities."

Before the cheering starts, however, certain points should be noted.

The following table shows the trend of capital spending in current and constant (1957) dollars since Mr. Diefenbaker took office in 1957.

Year	Current Dollars	Constant 1957 Dollars
1957	$8,717 millions	$8,717 millions
1958	8,364	8,332
1959	8,417	8,147
1960	8,262	7,884
1961	8,109	7,749
1962	8,596	—

During the same years private capital outlays (excluding housing) have declined from 64.8 per cent of the total in 1957 to 55 per cent in 1962. Investment in the public sector — by governments — has increased from 35.2 to 45 per cent.

The estimates for 1962—a year in which a robust seven per cent increase in the Gross National Product is forecast—scarcely reflect an enthusiastic display of confidence by private capital.

GAMES CAN BE FUN

Recreation: Merging the Old and the New

By B. A. TOBIN

THE current proposals for a joint inter-municipal effort on Greater Victoria's recreation needs merit a lot more attention and action than they will probably get. It's sort of a surprise to learn that this community lags behind other cities in providing places to swim, for instance. Nature did a fair job on beaches and lakes, but some of them are in the Eskimo category.

Then there's the old folks lacking a proper centre, the parkland this place is going to need when the population doubles and which should be set aside now while it can be acquired, and a lot of other items that we haven't yet got around to.

A lot of it, of course, boils down to providing places for the young people to play and exercise. In the old days a vacant lot was about all any youngster would wish to have—and there were a good many available. But vacant lots have had a habit of filling up with houses in the last couple of decades, and play and sports areas now have to be established on purpose instead of by accident.

There can be more than one solution, I suppose. Somebody suggested that having teen-agers robbing stores at night wasn't so bad since at least it kept them off the streets. But there does seem to be a need for public places in which to be active, and activities to carry on in them.

In this regard the recreation experts are overlooking a wonderful idea, which I now hand on to them without charge.

It is axiomatic that kids would rather play in the street than in prepared playing fields and recreation areas. There's something about a nice paved residential street that brings out the hockey player or rounders fan in any boy. But times and traffic problems have changed. In my day you could play a whole lot of games on the street and never have to stop for a passing car or delivery wagon. One-of-a-kind, kick-the-can, run-sheep-run—any of these could be played for an hour at a time and rarely have to be halted to let a car go by.

But this would be hazardous these days. You might survive the gasoline fumes but you wouldn't long survive the streamlined fenders.

Two Factors

On the one hand you have the need for prepared, sheltered play areas. On the other you have the kids' preference for streets to play in.

So... compromise. I propose that the recreation people build safe, sheltered, non-traffic streets for kids to play in. They would be lined with dummy houses, like the famous Russian Potemkin villages, and hockey, rounders, prisoner's base, and soccer with a tennis ball could reign supreme and undisturbed.

The players would have the satisfaction of playing in surroundings where they really shouldn't be playing, yet there would still be the security of a proper playing field.

And a lot of attractive features could be added. The houses could have self-sealing plastic windows through which a ball or a stone could be heaved with a satisfying crash. There would be door-bells that could be rung and realistic dummy householders who would open the front door and brandish a plastic fist at the fleeing culprit.

Added Attractions

There would be sidewalks with "no bicycles" signs, on which bicycles could be ridden with impunity, and "keep off the grass" signs in the best boulevard lolling places that could be happily ignored.

There might even be a rubber replica of a car that could be run down the street now and then, honking furiously and bumping players harmlessly as they continued with their game.

This sort of thing could out-draw Disneyland, and I recommend the idea to the authorities. With a dozen such fabricated blocks dotted throughout the Greater Victoria area, we'd have something that would bring recreation experts hurrying here from all parts of the country.

I offer the plan for what it's worth—although it's probably worth much more.

Then and Now

A lot of it, of course, boils down to providing places for the young people to play and exercise. In the old days a vacant lot was about all any youngster would wish to have—and there were a good many available. But vacant lots have had a habit of filling up with houses in the last couple of decades, and play and sports areas now have to be established on purpose instead of by accident.

There can be more than one solution, I suppose. Somebody suggested that having teen-agers robbing stores at night

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

MPs Don't Need More Pay

I disagree with your editorial of April 9 that MPs need more pay in order to represent the people.

To get the best representatives you need to get the ones who have known what it is to have to look at the copers let alone the dollars.

Giving them more pay would only increase the danger of getting ones who go in for the money and the pomp and show that goes with it.

Personally, I would myself run as an Independent if a candidate from my party did not suit me. In fact I think we should have a strong Independent party. I believe we would have a better crowd to look after our interests. The same applies to our provincial party, yes, and possibly the civic even.

Your editorial sounds to me as if someone has suggested the salary increase. I, however, don't agree with the Diefenbaker man. I think he is too fond of travelling. Two trips to Japan in one year. Why?

Pen Pals, Wholesale

If it is possible, and not too much trouble, could you please publish the following addresses of friends of mine who would like correspondents in Canada of about their own age:

Miss Margaret Lawson, age 14, and Miss Sylvia Lawson, age 20, 16 Harlow Avenue, Moorside East, Northumberland, England. Like records, etc.
Miss Pauline Long, age 13, 29 Penny-fine Road, Sunnyside, Newcastle, England. Likes reading, horse riding.
Miss Ann Douglas, age 13, 14 Cypress Crescent, Dunston, Gateshead 11, Durham, England.

Molly Avenue, Wallsend, Northumberland, England. Likes sports, animals.

I sincerely hope you will be able to publish these and am thanking you in advance on their behalf.

Christie Point

Congratulations to the alert reeves and councils of Saanich and Esquimalt and to engineer Neville Life of Saanich in protesting the Christie Point apartment project.

The municipalities bordering this project have installed expensive and efficient sewerage systems and numerous public-minded citizens have worked hard and freely through the years to make the waters of the Gorge as clean as they are today so that swimming and water sports can be enjoyed by young and old alike. The Kinsmen Park and the Craigflower School Park are paramount examples of the interest shown and work done, and now our own provincial government is about to scuttle the best of these efforts in passing such a plan. Awake Mr. Bruch and Mr. Tisdale and our city members too, before it is too late.

Everyone in the immediate area seems to be against this housing project by an eastern company. Even residents of the city, Oak Bay, Colwood and the Saanich Peninsula voice their opinion in favor of a park or at worst a limited exclusive housing area at the Point.

One does not have to be an engineer to realize that the body wastes from 160 families plus other filth-laden material stirred in a tank and even chlorinated will not make a very healthy or pleasant effluent for children or grown-ups to swim or play in.

Yes, now is the time for MLAs and residents of lower Vancouver Island to bring this matter to the government's attention before this beautiful park site is exploited.

Famine in Indonesia

The item "Famine Threatens" (April 7, page 13) clicks with what my daughter in Indonesia wrote me a few weeks ago. She said that the prices of the main food articles had been tripled, while the amounts available to families had been severely cut.

From another reliable source, this from Java, I heard that an American dollar is now officially worth 200 rupiahs, while on the black market it rates 500 rupiahs.

For Holland

Although colonialism is gradually facing its decline, I'm all for the firm policy Holland is holding in Dutch New Guinea. Sukarno's claim is obviously Communist-sponsored and should not be justified since Indonesia holds no legal right to its succession of the territory.

A Communist-leaning government in Australasia would be a "pithilis" to the democratic nations of the South Pacific.

HONG KONG:

Termites in Terminology

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WITHIN a very short time, every calculation may be upset by the Chinese Communist National People's Congress. At the moment, a dense ominous public silence still surrounds the Congress; but what has been happening behind those closed doors must be given out or begin to leak out. Pending this unpredictable moment, it is worth noting a key point in the bitter Soviet-Chinese quarrel—a point almost completely missed in the non-Communist world.

In brief, the two parties to this most important row of our era have not been content with calling one another hard names, like "revisionist" and "dogmatist." Less conspicuously but more significantly, each party has been busily trying to promote a change in the other party's leadership.

Nikita S. Khrushchev has been out gunning for Mao Tse-tung at least since 1959; and more recently Mao Tse-tung has been out gunning for the personal hide of Khrushchev with equal determination and fervor.

The record is particularly clear in the case of Khrushchev. The first and most dramatic episode was the attack by the Korean war hero and former Minister of Defence, Marshal Peng Teh-huai, on Mao's whole policy of the rural communes and the "great leap forward."

Sharp Attack

This sharp and devastating attack, delivered at the Lushan party conference in 1959, at one point caused Mao to reply that if his brother Communists supported Marshal Peng, then he, the great Mao himself, would lay down his offices, go out into the villages, and raise another guerrilla army of resistance to the Communist government.

It is now known that Peng delivered his attack with the connivance and active encouragement of Khrushchev. The proof of early, flagrant Soviet interference in the Chinese party's internal affairs is therefore all too clear.

What is now known about the withdrawal of the Soviet technicians from China fits into the same pattern. The Kremlin did not stop at abruptly pulling out all these experts who were aiding China to construct her new industry. Apparently by order, the technicians took with them all their plans, blueprints, and specifications, leaving their Chinese co-workers with half-finished projects and no guidelines for the future.

Thus the vast San Men Gorge hydro-electric and flood control project has been left with its huge and costly dam completed, with one Russian-built-giant turbine installed, but with all the other turbines missing.

Drastic Sanctions

This sort of thing adds up to sanctions as drastic as the U.S. has used against Fidel Castro. The aim can only be to promote a sorry failure of Mao's policy of forced industrialization, and thus to cause trouble for Mao.

This aim has been spelled out, moreover, in the recently inaugurated Soviet broadcasts to China in the Chinese language. These broadcasts have been strangely full of appeals to the Albanian comrades to improve their lot by tossing out their erring leaders.

As the Soviets customarily say "Albanian" when they mean "Chinese," the lesson can hardly have been lost in China.

There are no sanctions which the Chinese can usefully enforce against the Russians. The record of Mao's manoeuvres in internal Russian affairs is also far from clear, although what was said about old Molotov at the Twenty-Second Party Congress makes it pretty certain that he and the Chinese were jointly involved in some sort of anti-Khrushchev manoeuvre.

But the tendency of the Chinese attack has now been revealed by the anti-Soviet indoctrination of Chinese Communist party members, which is currently going on all over China.

Expected Appeals

In the indoctrination sessions, there are plenty of the expected appeals to the natural anti-foreign feeling of all Chinese. Yet it is fair to say that the attack is zeroed in on the person of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The dispute between the parties is made light of, in fact, as compared with China's personal quarrel with Khrushchev the individual leader. He is regularly described by all the most awful terms in the Communist lexicon—"revisionist," "rightwing deviationist," "opportunist," and so on.

The implication is that if Khrushchev could just be pushed down the nearest well, all problems between China and the Soviet Union would be solved. The unavoidable deduction is that Mao and Khrushchev both think that there are persons worth appealing to in the Russian and Chinese Communist parties, because these mysterious persons may also wish for a change in leadership.

In the case of Khrushchev, it is known that his earliest appeals were directed to the Chinese military leadership, which was therefore purged. It is a fair guess that Mao's appeals are also directed to the Soviet marshals. (c) 1962 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Who's to Set Examinations?

A YOUNG lady who rides the morning bus with me on the way to Victoria College is a little disturbed by a hitch in her plans for a career.

She wants to be a nurse. She has made application to a nursing school and has been shaken by the nursing school's queries about marks she scored on her University Entrance examinations last year.

She's writing First-Year College finals now and I hope that the winter of her discontent is made glorious summer by the results.

Her experience underscores a point made by my friend Bev Campbell on examinations at the end of high school courses.

Bev, who commutes from his high school job in Vancouver to work on his Master's at Western Washington State College, is planning a paper on the subject.

He suggests that there should be no external examinations at the end of Grade 12. Examinations, he argues, should be used for entrance qualification to a particular institution. Thus a university, technical institute, trades school and other establishment where specialized training is given, would conduct oral and written tests before admitting students into their respective institutions.

This, Bev says, would eliminate the need for external exams from high school. All students who completed the Grade 12 course would graduate, but where they went from there would be up to them.

There would, he feels, be no need for a general program, or university program, as now proposed. The students would be made aware of the different requirements of the post-high school institutions and it would be their responsibility to work toward the standards set by the institution of their choosing.

As a result, no social stigma would be attached to the non-university program. Further, students would be given a better opportunity to prepare themselves for particular vocations because they would know they faced examination by the university, technical school or trades school which would be better qualified to test students than is the present-day comprehensive high school or the government department of education through a general set of examinations.

Beyond this, says Bev, the system he proposes would tend to raise standards because students would have to achieve a level demanded by the post-high school institutions. They need not face a predetermined failure rate and the standard could fluctuate from year to year, presumably as the demand or accommodation for entrants into the different specialized fields rose or fell.

In favor of the plan he advances the arguments that only those intending to go to university would take courses preparing them for university examinations.

Each institution could set its entrance standards and students wishing to enter would prepare for it at high school.

As my friend sees it, the policy he advocates would help to make the high school more a preparatory school for life rather than for the university, to which only a limited number of high school students proceed.

To some of us who have taken the position, a bit traditional, that high school is intended to equip the student only with general tools to work on the job of becoming decent citizens, Bev's ideas may seem to stress the trade-training aspect of education.

At the same time, if his plan had been operating for the young lady who rides the bus with me, she might now be in a better position to knock on the door of a nursing school. At least she'd have known that candidates for nursing had to measure up to certain standards required by that training institution, and she'd have had the opportunity to channel her studies toward excellence in the subjects in which it demands strength.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Sports on Sunday?

LONDON — Home Secretary R. H. (Rab) Butler intends shortly to introduce a bill aimed at bringing the British Sunday up to date. And to help in framing the bill he recently circulated, among others, the leading sports bodies in the country to get their attitude to a more open Sunday.

As the British Sunday stands now there is the anomalous situation whereby bars and cinemas are open but live theatres and sports grounds aren't. Would those who run the big spectator sports like to have the turnstiles rolling on the Sabbath?

By now most of the major sports bodies have each done an initial survey in their own particular sphere and, strangely it seems, there is no wild enthusiasm on the part of the sports organizers for Sunday opening.

I say strangely because the public impression was that, to judge by the moaning about falling gates, the open Sunday was the open sesame for many clubs to get out of the dire financial state they're in.

The football league management committee (bosses of the regular weekly League competition) are against Sunday fixtures.

Their attitude is that they wouldn't attract any important proportion of those who work on Saturdays. And would they gain anything by being able to stagger Saturday and Sunday fixtures?

In areas such as London and Lancashire, where there is a big concentration of teams, clashing of fixtures could be avoided by having both Saturday and Sunday available.

But, says the Football League realistically, is your soccer man going to devote Saturday afternoon to Arsenal and then troop across town the following day to root for Chelsea?

The league have faced this fact: even if he wanted to, his family wouldn't let him. As one official put it: "The truth of the matter, whether or not one dislikes it, is that soccer's chief Sunday counter-attraction is not the church but the motor car."

Rugby Union, true to form, dismisses Sunday rugby with a curt: "We do not agree with it where gate money is taken." This is right in line with their age-old policy. Although British soccer teams play against teams across the Channel on Sundays to fit in with the Continental Sunday, when the rugby teams of England, Ireland, Scotland or Wales play France in Paris it is insisted that it be a Saturday fixture.

HOME GARDEN

Don't Work So Hard on Parsnips

Parsnips are not what they used to be.

For generations, gardeners have prepared their soil to great depths and where depth was lacking, have driven crow-bars down 36 inches and filled the holes with sifted compost to obtain long, straight roots.

For the show Jack who enjoys a few parsnips during winter, such energetic endeavors are no longer necessary. Parsnips today may be short, medium, or long in the root thereby providing type suited to any depth of soil.

Hollow Crown has been the standard long variety of which the cook usually discarded a half or more of the length the gardener worked so hard to produce.

Model Hollow Crown has a medium root and less taper. This variety may be the same, or closely resembling, Harris Model.

For heavy soils and shallow soils the variety Short Thick has been produced. True to its name, it provides very little for the cook to throw away.

Sowing of seed is done outdoors as soon as the ground can be prepared, for parsnips are a long season crop, the flavor of which is improved by frost. The roots are left in the garden and dug as needed through the winter.

When new growth is observed in the crowns of the parsnips in spring, use should be discontinued since flavor will then be poor.

New Prosperity Drive by France

PARIS (Reuters) — The government Thursday pressed ahead with an ambitious peace-time program aimed at bringing new prosperity to France in the wake of last month's cease-fire in the Algerian war.

The program provides for a streamlining of the French armed forces and a new initiative in foreign policy as well as a progressive domestic reform policy with a strong left-wing appeal.

The domestic policy got off to a big start Wednesday with a government announcement of tax reliefs for the low income workers and a boost in old age pensions which will cost the treasury more than 500,000,000 new francs ($10,000,000) this year and at least twice that figure in 1963.

The budget shows a deficit for the first time since the West German state was set up in 1949.

The deficit of about 1,700,000,000 marks (about $425,000,000) will be partly reduced by grants from state governments. The rest is expected to be met by capital market loans.

Coupled with the new program was the planned replacement Saturday of Premier Michel Debre by Georges Pompidou, one of de Gaulle's closest advisers.

ABLE ADMINISTRATOR
Pompidou, managing director of Rothschild's Bank in Paris, is little known to the general public but in inner government circles he is regarded as one of France's most able administrators.

Among his most vital tasks as premier will be the reorganization of the French armed forces into a modern atomic strike force envisaged by de Gaulle.

He also will be charged with promoting the president's plan for a political tieup with France's partners in the European Common Market.

$13 Billion West German Budget Set

BONN (Reuters) — A record 1962 budget of 53,404,000,000 marks ($13,351,000,000) was approved Thursday by the West German Bundestag (lower house).

The budget shows a deficit for the first time since the West German state was set up in 1949.

The deficit of about 1,700,000,000 marks (about $425,000,000) will be partly reduced by grants from state governments. The rest is expected to be met by capital market loans.

NEW LOW PRICES ON ALL ATLAS TIRES

Esso dealers sell many lines of Atlas tires. There's a quality Atlas tire for every type of driving and every budget.

The prices on all Atlas tires have now been substantially reduced, with no reduction in quality.

For instance, the "first line" Atlas Plycron, the Atlas tire equivalent to those installed on new cars, used to list at $24.35 (6:50 x 13, tubeless blackwall). The new suggested retail price is $18.40. In the same way, the "third line" Atlas Mile-Pak, the Atlas economy tire, used to list at $15.95 (6:70 x 15, tubed blackwall). The new suggested retail price is $12.95.

Atlas recognizes there are other tires on the market for $9.95 or less. They are called "fourth line" tires. And they are just that. The price reflects the quality. Atlas does not sell a fourth line tire because it has not found a fourth line tire that will meet Atlas standards of quality and performance.

The next time you're in the market for tires, see your Esso dealer first. Compare his Atlas quality. Compare his Atlas price. Compare his Esso-matic credit arrangements and his new Atlas guarantee. On any basis, you'll find his deal is "right with the times"—the top deal for you.

You'll find all ATLAS products at new low prices

Basis of the mild rumble opposition to the proposed Oak Bay marina development which goes to referendum next Tuesday is difficult

However, judging from few representations which have been made to the municipality, reluctance to accept change would seem to be the strongest factor.

HOPELESS CONDITION

Two points should be noted in this regard: One is that chaned beyond recognition from a few years ago by apartment development; the second and more important, is no matter the result of referendum the old Oak boathouse, condemned by engineers, must come down. The float area is in quite a less condition.

defeated by apathy—Oak will be faced with the el of getting along without pure boat facilities on that or of spending considerable amounts of ratepayers' money to replace them. No group is likely to consider investment in similar facilities in the face of defeat o

'Warm-Hearted IBM Machine'

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Miles Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corporation, looks more like a mathematics teacher than a captain of industry. The appearance is not completely deceiving. Blough once was a mathematics teacher.

Last Tuesday, Blough took the price of steel and added $6 to each ton. The result was a national furore that shook the White House, Capitol Hill, the Justice department, Wall Street and U.S. industry and labor in general.

It has not—so far as can be ascertained—shaken Roger M. Blough.

In facing reporters and cameramen for an hour Thursday, he was as cool as a frozen ton of steel—and just as unbending.

Dressed in a dark blue suit and wearing his regular academic-style dark-rimmed, plastic-framed spectacles, the $300,000-a-year chief of big steel showed not the faintest emotion as he defended his company's position.

The sombre mood of the press conference was broken only once, when a reporter asked whether political considerations had a part in the company's decision to act now rather than during the Republican administration of President Eisenhower.

"I think you gentlemen can readily see that I know nothing about politics," he snapped with good humor.

In all, the conference was characteristic of the man described as a "warm-hearted IBM machine," as "a real Supreme Court judge" and as a man "who turns up once in a decade."

Blough was born Jan. 19, 1904, in Riverside, Pa., where his father farmed 30 acres. He helped pay his way through St. Joseph's University by delivering mail, washing windows, teaching and working in a factory. A sturdy six-footer, he also found time to win letters in football and basketball.

After graduation in 1925, he

taught mathematics and science and coached basketball at the high school in Hawley, Pa., for three years; winding up as school principal. He took some time off for ministerial studies at Oberlin College.

In 1928, Blough married Helen Decker, daughter of a local banker. The Bloughs still maintain a house in Hawley and often relax there on weekends.

Outside of Hawley, Blough spends most of his time in apartments on Park Avenue in New York City and in the U.S. Steel Mellon Building in Pittsburgh. Like President Kennedy, he has a penchant for rocking chairs and has a collection of about a dozen.

Blough joined U.S. Steel in 1942 as a general solicitor. On his way to the top, Blough masterminded reorganization of the corporation, then a comparatively loose-knit assemblage of subsidiaries, into a more cohesive system of divisions united to a strong central framework. It now has assets of $4,600,000,000.

The steel price increase has brought comment that the action might start a new inflation.

Blough's feelings about this were stated five years ago, after an earlier steel price rise, when he appeared before the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee. He said:

"Rising prices do not cause inflation; they are the results of inflation. As a knowing friend of mine once put it: 'Price increases cause inflation like wet streets cause rain.'"

JFK, BLOUGH
BLOW-BY-BLOW

NEW YORK (AP)—The following is what President Kennedy said concerning steel price increases and the reply of U.S. Steel board Chairman Roger M. Blough:

EFFECTS
Kennedy—"If this rise in the cost of steel is initiated by the rest of the industry... it would increase the cost of homes, autos, appliances and most every item for every American family."

Blough—"The increase of 3.10 of a cent per pound of the price of steel adds almost negligibly to the cost of steel which goes into the familiar, every-day products that we use."

Kennedy—"And for an industry which has been generally operating at less than two-thirds of capacity, its profit rate has been normal, and can be expected to rise sharply this year in view of the reduction in idle capacity."

Blough—"Our own profits of 5.7 per cent on sales in 1961 were the lowest since 1952."

EMPLOYMENT COSTS
Kennedy—"... The acting commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics informed me... that 'employment costs per unit of steel output in 1961 were essentially the same as they were in 1958.'"

Blough—"... Hourly employment costs have increased since 1958, by a total of about 12 per cent and... other costs have risen too."

RESPONSIBILITY
Kennedy—"The price increase by U.S. Steel and other steel firms" "constitute a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest."

Blough—"... You become non-competitive, your costs are higher, if you have insufficient prices to provide the machinery and equipment that is necessary to remain competitive... There was nothing irresponsible about the action we have taken."

DEFENCE
Kennedy—"It would add, Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara informed me this morning, an estimated $1,000,000,000 to the cost of our defence..."

Blough—"I am sure that as far as direct steel sales to the defence department are concerned that the total tonnage... could not amount to more than, say, three or three and a half million tons... That of course would be something in the nature of $20,000,000, and where the billion dollars comes from I don't know..."

Business Agrees,
Public Disagrees

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal reported today that a survey it made in 20 U.S. cities indicates a majority of business leaders believe the steel price increases announced this week are justified, but the public tends to disagree.

The Journal said a sampling made in the 20 cities found two-thirds of the businessmen who were polled firmly backing the decision made by the U.S. Steel Corporation to raise prices.

Most of the other businessmen were reported to have said they lacked enough information at this point to make a judgment, and few openly backed President Kennedy's stand that the price increases were unjustified.

The story also said in part: A survey of general opinion on street corners in "uppermarkets and lower places where people congregate" "turned up a vastly different response."

More than 60 per cent of these people said the steel price increase is not called for at this time and will cause harmful effects on the economy.

Fish Firm Cleared
On Halibut Charge

Dennis' Shellfish Co., 405 Yates, was cleared Thursday of a charge of illegal possession of halibut after a lengthy hearing in city police court.

Magistrate William Ostler said that although the 60-pound fish had almost certainly been caught out of season and in a prohibited area there was no proof the company ever had possession of it.

Defence counsel George Gregory called evidence to show Dennis' Shellfish Co. was not the sole user of its inner harbor dock.

Company president Gordon J. Dennis testified he had seen the halibut lying on his dock two days before federal fisheries department inspectors found it there.

He said he had felt for some time other people had "been landing stuff on our dock at night" and he left the fish there in an attempt to find out who it was.

Co-Operative Federalism

BRANDON (CP) — Walter Dinsdale, federal northern affairs and natural resources minister, called on the federal and provincial government Thursday for co-operation in inter-governmental and jurisdictional disputes.

Mr. Dinsdale, speaking to the annual meeting of the Manitoba Institute of Agrologists, called for a form of co-operative federalism between the governments in order for Canada to make necessary strides in resources control.

Mr. Dinsdale cited the dispute between the federal government and the government of British Columbia over sale of downstream power from proposed Columbia River hydro development as an example of disputes that "now form one of our major and basic problems."

He also said Prime Minister Diefenbaker had promised to inaugurate a national development policy which would provide for the development of all parts of Canada.

"Through the willingness of the senior government to co-operate in this," said Mr. Dinsdale, "we have achieved a new level of success."

He pointed to the South Saskatchewan Dam project, the Assiniboine floodway in Manitoba, and the Upper Thames project and Metro Toronto project in Ontario as proof of this success. He said the Agriculture Rehabilitation and Development Act now is on the statute books, talks have been held with most of the provinces, a director has been named and the first project probably will get underway this summer.

But he called for the assistance of the professional agriculture people in selling the ideas of ARDA to the public. "ARDA was launched in response to a national recognition that all resources would have to be used to the maximum," he said. "But legislation can go on the statute books and die there unless the people who are active in the use of renewable resources add to the legislation the flesh and blood of vitality."

Exemptions Up For Dependents

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage Thursday night announced a $50 boost in dependents' exemptions, but left the remainder of the personal income and corporation tax structure unchanged as he brought down the provincial budget.

The Quebec personal income tax rate is approximately 15 per cent of the federal rate.

Exemptions for children under 16 for whom the federal government pays family allowances will be increased to $300 from $250, the premier told a crowded legislature, and to $550 from $500 for other dependents.

The changes, effective from Jan. 1, match an increase in exemptions announced by Finance Minister Fleming in his federal budget Tuesday.

The change in tax exemptions is expected to drop some 25,000 persons from the personal income tax lists, a government official said, and will mean a loss of about $1,500,000 in annual revenue.

The premier announced an estimated deficit of $143,783,775 for the coming fiscal year compared with an estimated deficit of $83,208,000 for 1961-62.

Estimated revenue for the coming year was $754,107,000, up by $34,978,000. Expenditures were estimated at $953,958,775, up $115,643,775 from last year.

MUST BORROW

The government would have to borrow some $225,000,000 during the year. Of the amount, $60,000,000 was borrowed April 2.

Ottawa Spruce-Up Cost $20 Million

OTTAWA (CP) — The National Capital Commission will spend $20,941,000 this year in the giant program to doll up Ottawa.

This was revealed today in the NCC's 1962-63 capital budget tabled in the Commons.

At least one of the expenditures appeared to be aimed at the government's earlier announced intention to spruce up the capital for Canada's 100th birthday celebrations in 1967.

6 Years in Jail For Wife-Slayer

KAMLOOPS (CP) — John Kenny Haywood, charged with non-capital murder in the shooting death Dec. 1 of his wife Lorraine, was found guilty Thursday of manslaughter.

Mr. Justice A. E. Lord sentenced Haywood, the father of three children — all of whom testified during his trial — to six years in prison.

CAUGHT in sewer pipe Steve Frederickson, 3, of Racine, Wis., does not seem to be very happy about it all if facial expression means anything. Steve rests head on pillow while policeman keeps close watch as solution is considered. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Stay in Own Cabbage Patch' Fox-Hunting Duke Advised

By DOUG MARSHALL

LONDON (CP) — A hunting duke, an angry farmer and an exhausted fox crossed paths Wednesday and triggered off a hue and cry heard up and down the land.

Gloucestershire farmer Colin Robertson claims he shot the fox and led the Duke of Beaufort, joint master of the Beaufort Hunt, off his 60-acre farm at the point of a shotgun.

The duke, who is Master of the Queen's Horse and Lord Lieutenant of the County of Gloucester, says the fox went safely to earth and he left of his own accord.

The British Field Sports Society backed up the duke Thursday. A spokesman said he and the other master, Maj. Gerald Gurney, entered Robertson's field for the sole purpose of calling off the hounds.

But the League against Cruel Sports said the fox was shot and awarded Robertson their silver medal for his action.

Meanwhile, the fox, alive or dead, is keeping well clear of the controversy. Robertson says someone has removed the carcass from the place where it was shot.

The farmer added that he is not interested in winning medals but only in preventing his grass from being churned up by galloping hooves. He said he had made his wishes clear to the hunt in the past.

William Connor, the Daily Mirror columnist who writes under the name Cassandra, praises Robertson for his zest and gusto in doing the thing that is simply not done in England.

"This is sporting sacrilege on a breath-taking scale. The enormity of the offence is comparable to playing a ribald melody on a banjo in a cathedral."

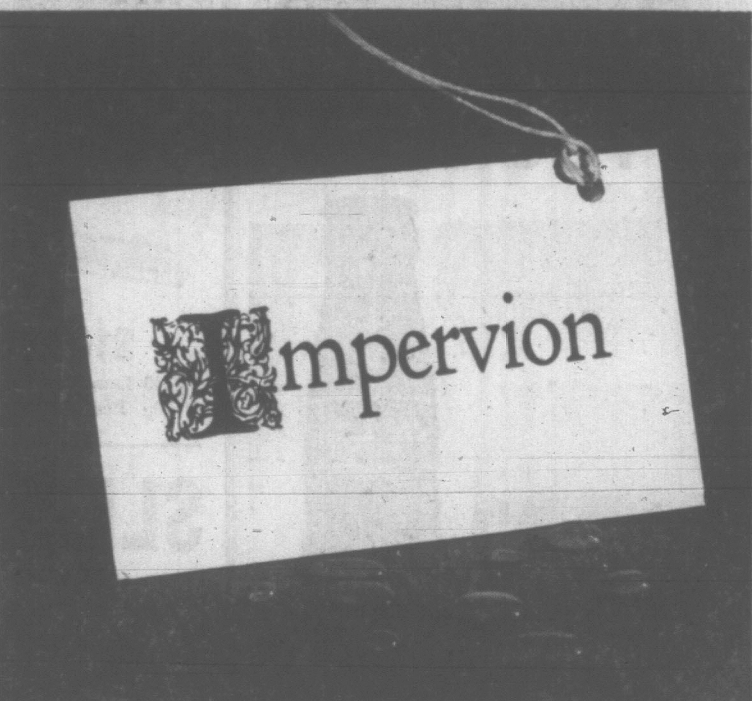

"The duke owns 52,000 acres. One would have thought the duke might have been able to contain his blood-sporting instincts within his own little cabbage patch."

Columbia Issue Boils Over

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons exploded into bitter wrangling Thursday when the government announced an unexpected switch in debating topics to avoid immediate discussion of the controversial Columbia River treaty.

Opposition Leader Pearson said the government was afraid to go on with the debate because of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton's recent charges that the treaty was a sellout of Canada's interests on the river. The general voiced that view after being retired as Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission.

H. W. Herridge, House leader of the CCF - New Democratic Party group and the MP whose Kootenay West constituency would be affected by flooding the Arrow Lakes as a power reservoir, said the government "hasn't got the answers" to the Columbia crisis.

DENIAL BY FLEMING

Finance Minister Fleming stoutly denied both. He said the House could come back to the Columbia issue later, once it has passed other items in the government's final supplementary appropriations for the 1961-62 fiscal year, which closed March 31.

The Columbia issue boiled up in the Commons to angry proportions last Friday when the supplementary appropriations were last before the House.

When the Commons took up the estimates again Thursday, opposition members expected to continue on the Columbia. But Finance Minister Fleming proposed that it be dropped for the present, and that the House go on to the next item, involving education and welfare assistance for the Far North.

LACK OF DECISION

Lionel Chevrier (L.-Montreal Laurier) said the government was trying to accuse the opposition of holding up the appropriations, but the delay was really caused by confusion and lack of decision on the government's side.

That there was confusion was clear to Mr. Herridge. He said the gallery where departmental officials wait to be called to the floor of the Commons to give whispered advice to the minister piloting estimates was "filled with high-priced, highly-trained engineers of the water resources branch."

Mr. Fleming made a quick check and found there were just two of them in the gallery.

Mr. Herridge said that nevertheless, the switch in business was "most irregular and unusual."

When Deputy Speaker Paul Martineau ruled that the government had the right to determine the order of business to be taken up by the House, Mr. Herridge appealed.

The ruling was upheld by a vote of 130 to 38.

FRIGATES TO CARRY MISSILES

HALIFAX (CP) — Vice Admiral H. S. Rayner, chief of naval staff, said Thursday eight new frigates which will be added to Canada's navy will carry guided missiles.

He said the ships will assume duties now handled by Banshee jet aircraft and will be built in Canada.

The admiral also told a press conference three new submarines will be employed as "anti-submarine submarines."

City Youth Misses Indian College Life

By JOHN MANNING
An adventure-minded young Canadian has just returned to this city after an eight-month period of philosophical study in India.

Robert S. Anderson, 3943 Locarno Road, has mixed feelings about his return.

"I'm shocked at how easy it is to do things in Victoria, such as going to a bank or doing business in a post office," he said.

"Things are so clean here, too."

But the 20-year-old student misses the quaintness of some aspects of life in India. Wouldn't it be great to see cows wandering the streets of Victoria as they do in all of the cities and villages of India because they are held sacred?

Although he found the general living conditions in India to be of low standard, Robert had nothing but praise for the campus on which he lived.

"Conditions were much better there than at Fort Camp in UBC," he said. "One person to a room, everything clean and simple. The living quarters were modelled after Cambridge with all the rooms facing onto an open courtyard."

Robert, whose father, Dr. L. S. Anderson, is with the World Health Organization, spent most of his time at University in Madras. He was one of two Canadians studying there.

Bob said he was treated with great warmth by the people in India.

"Generally speaking they were surprised that I wanted to see something of their way of life."

Bloody Brawl Halts Big Job

TRACY, Que. (CP) — Two rival unions, maintaining an uneasy truce under the watchful eyes of police, stopped all work today on a giant $40,000,000 steel plant, scene of a wild fight among about 1,000 men Thursday.

Fifty Quebec Provincial Police were standing by while the two hostile groups picketed the plant site, reinforcing the 14 police normally stationed in the area.

Paul Gauthier, chief of the Tracy police force, said "If anything happens like Thursday it will take an army to stop it."

Thursday's battle in this tiny community 40 miles northeast of Montreal erupted shortly after noon.

The brawl was brief but bloody as the men—about 500 on each side—battered each other with pipes, rubber hoses, bricks, stones and anything else they could lay their hands on. However, there were no serious injuries and the major victims seemed to be car owners. Seventeen vehicles were overturned and at least two were set on fire, resulting in damage estimated at about $50,000.

The riot occurred at a site where the Pigott Construction Company is building the plant for Atlas Steels Limited to produce alloy steels and stainless steel products.

No arrests were made after the riot but it is still under investigation.

Henry VIII's Six Wives Arrive

Future Home Will Be Victoria's Royal London Wax Museum

Six of the most famous Queens in history arrived in Canada by Canadian Pacific Airlines' Jet in an historic flight from Amsterdam. They are wax figures of the six wives of King Henry VIII, and will be on display in the opening of the Royal London Wax Museum in Victoria on April 20.

They were accompanied by Keith Gems, Managing Director of Josephine Tussaud Ltd. of London, England, said of the six wives will give the museum more than 80 figures including the Chamber of Horrors.

The arrival gave Victoria the phenomenal recognition in the free world's press, radio and television on the six famous Queens.

CATHERINE OF ARAGON (1489-1536)
For more than 20 years this Spanish princess was Henry's queen, and she produced a son, the future Edward VI.

ANNE BOLEYN (1506-1536)
Nobody so charmed and intelligent as this sister of one of his old mistresses, for she gained his love, and she was crowned queen. Her husband's happiness was short-lived, and she was beheaded on the charge of adultery.

JANE SEYMOUR (1509-1537)
It is said that within a week of marrying the king and his first wife, Jane Seymour, that he had met her earlier. Jane had met him a year earlier, and she had given birth to a son, Edward VI, and then immediately expired.

ANNE OF CLEVELAND (1619-1671)
Henry was relatively an old man when he took this slightly younger woman as his fourth wife. She was a French noblewoman, and she was known for her beauty and her intelligence. She was a very good mother to her children, and she was a very good queen.

KATHERINE HOWARD (1520-1542)
Henry was relatively an old man when he took this slightly younger woman as his fifth wife. She was a French noblewoman, and she was known for her beauty and her intelligence. She was a very good mother to her children, and she was a very good queen.

KATHERINE PARR (1512-1548)

Even Victorious Leafs Unhappy with Udvary

Two Goals Disallowed As Chihawks Nipped, 3-2

TORONTO (CP) — Referee Frank Udvary's decisions were loud and clear—and so were the post-game squawks—as Toronto Maple Leafs edged Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 Thursday night to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup final series.

Chicago coach Rudy Pilous was openly bitter over the refereeing. The Leafs, milder in their hour of victory, had a few beefs of their own. Udvary simply said he followed the rules in disallowing a goal for each side and refusing to award a penalty shot demanded by one side and a major penalty demanded by the other.

The Hawks were unhappy when Udvary called back Stan Mikita's second-period goal, having blown his whistle while netminder Johnny Bower juggled the puck before the Chicago centre knocked it loose. Pilous also felt the referee should have given Carl Brewer a major penalty in the second period when he slammed Murray Balfour into the boards and the Hawk right winger staggered off with a mild concussion.

The series swings to Chicago for the third game Sunday night and fourth Tuesday. The Chicago battles start at 6 p.m. PST.

Harris Needed Only 20 Seconds

Harris, sparingly used all season, was on the ice only about 20 seconds when he found defenceman Tim Horton's rebound and fired a 30-foot backhand past Hall to give the Leafs a 1-0 lead at 2:35 of the first period. Balfour was off at the time for boarding Toronto defenceman Bobby Baun.

That was one of the four or five times Harris got on the ice. On one of the others, he had Hall at his mercy but the Chicago goaltender flashed out his glove to make the stop. Mikita tied it 1-1 at 8:47 of the third period, capitalizing on the rebound of a shot by Ab McDonald.

Mahovlich put Toronto ahead again a minute later. Right winger Ron Stewart carried the puck down the right boards from the Chicago blue line and passed to centre Red Kelly, who quickly tipped the puck to Mahovlich at the goalmouth.

Another goalmouth pass, this time to Armstrong, set the time to the game out of reach. Centre Dave Keon set up the play by passing from behind the Chicago goal but the official scorer gave the assist to Dick Duff. Keon later asked Udvary to credit him with the assist and the referee said he would, but there was no official correction on the goal.

Mikita got his second goal, boosting his total in eight play-off games to five goals and 11 assists, at 18:27 of the third period, but it was too late for the Hawks to revive. Chicago's Red Hay and Brewer were off when the puck bounced off Bobby Hull of Chicago and Mikita drove it home.

Hall gave the crowd of 13,403 another terrific goaltending performance. The Leafs checked the Hawks tenaciously and tested Hall unsuccessfully.

BUT NO COMPLAINTS

A Bit Tougher Punch Admits

TORONTO—The winning coach (Punch Imlach) was pleased but not enthusiastic. The losing coach (Rudy Pilous) was displeased and vociferous.

That was the tempo in the dressing rooms at Maple Leaf Gardens Thursday after Toronto had whipped Chicago 3-2.

"I can't complain," said Imlach. "It was a little tougher for us to win than the first game. The next one (Sunday in Chicago) will be a little closer, too, I would say."

Pilous pulled out the crying towel in the Hawks' quarters. He was particularly disenchanted with referee Frank Udvary.

FAST WHISTLE
Udvary found his whistle a lot faster on that play than he has on most others," Pilous said.

He was referring to Udvary's no-goal ruling on a shot by Stan Mikita in the second period.

With Leafs ahead 1-0, Mikita knocked the puck from between Leaf goalkeeper John Bower's arm and chest and then whacked it into the net. Udvary blew the whistle as soon as Bower grabbed the puck. He disallowed the goal.

LOST SIGHT OF PUCK
"Bower blocked the puck, holding it between his arm and his side," Udvary said in his dressing room after the game.

"I blew the whistle because I lost sight of the puck. It went into the net when Mikita hit Bower after the whistle had gone."

Chicago coach Rudy Pilous said: "Everybody in the country saw the puck—except Udvary, apparently."

Udvary also called back a goal by Toronto left winger Ed Litzenberger, who batted in a flying puck in the third period.

"He had his stick above his shoulder when he shot," Udvary said.

Litzenberger disagreed. "That was a good goal," he said. "Hell, I'm six-foot-three and if I had hit it with my stick above the shoulder it would have gone over the net. He's (Udvary) got no argument."

Neither coach had words of praise or condemnation for any player. But it was no secret that sparingly-used Billy Harris contributed significantly to Toronto's success.

He scored Leafs' first goal and missed a second by inches when Glen Hall beaten later in the game.

About 1,200 fans watched the Campbell-Baldwin game go into an extra end before Bob McWhirter, the Campbell rink skip, pulled into an open house to win 10-9.

That set up a clash this morning between Campbell and world champion Ernie Richardson of Regina. Only one could remain in the running for the cars. Richardson lost his first game to Dagg.

The four undefeated rinks were to enter a semi-final and final today to produce an "A" bracket winner for the car final Saturday evening. All rinks with one loss were in "B" bracket, facing elimination with one more defeat.

Austman produced an 11-5 drubbing of Glen Harper from Duncan. Harper is one of the rinks with a one-loss record.

Finsterwald Fires 65; Leads by Two Strokes
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, low man on the totem pole in the Masters golf tournament playoff three days ago, rebounded with a six-under-par 65 first round Thursday to take a two-stroke lead in the $35,000 Greater Greensboro Open tournament.

The 32-year-old professional put together nines of 32-33 against par of 36-35 for the 1,000 muddy yards of the rain-soaked Sedgefield Country Club.

His score put him two shots ahead of Julius Boros, who was 33-34.

Arnold Palmer, conqueror of Finsterwald and Gary Player in Monday's Master's playoff, was in an eight-way tie for 29th place with a par 71. In all, 29 players in the field of 152 bettered par and eight equalled regulation figures.

Back of Finsterwald and Boros were six players tied for third place at 68, three shots off the pace. Among them were Al Johnston of Montreal and defending champion Mike Souchock of Durham, N.C.

Four Undefeated In Run for Cars

VANCOUVER (CP) — The unexpected was in style Thursday at Vancouver's spring car bop.

After two rounds of a double-knockout series for the cars, four rinks in the starting field of 16 were unbeaten and only one of them boasted a name long familiar in Canadian curling.

Lionel Wood of Edmonton and formerly of Winnipeg finished the day with two straight wins. So did hot and unheralded rinks skipped by Walt Ashlee of Dawson Creek, Lynn Dagg of Vancouver and Stan Austman of Saskatoon.

Matt Baldwin of Edmonton, who three times won the Canadian curling title, was bumped right out of the car bop Thursday night, by Garret Campbell of Avonlea, Sask., a veteran gunning for his fifth set of cars.

About 1,200 fans watched the Campbell-Baldwin game go into an extra end before Bob McWhirter, the Campbell rink skip, pulled into an open house to win 10-9.

That set up a clash this morning between Campbell and world champion Ernie Richardson of Regina. Only one could remain in the running for the cars. Richardson lost his first game to Dagg.

Fatal Crash Ends Flight Record Try
MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters) — Scottish racing driver and pilot Ron Flockhart was killed Wednesday when his Mustang plane crashed in heavily wooded country near here.

Flockhart, 38, was flying to Sydney on a last-minute test before leaving Melbourne next Monday in an attempt to break the solo record for a flight to London in a Mustang fighter he bought from the Australian Air Force.

In regular Sunday District League matches, Esquimalt, Brodie vs. Nanaimo; Heywood Avenue Park, and Saanich Thistles meet Kickers at Central Park. All games start at 2 p.m.

Cricket Can Be Dangerous
TURNBRIDGE, WELLS, England (AP) — Groundsman resodding the local cricket ground turned up 11 live hand grenades Wednesday.

"We're finding grenades all over," said head groundsman Ray Kemp. He called in an army bomb disposal unit to help clean up the place.

The cricket ground was used by the Canadian Army units for grenade training during the Second World War.

Unsuspecting cricket players and spectators have been tramping around on the buried grenades for years.

Mikita beat him twice. Leafs rapped in three goals for 3-2 victory Thursday night at Toronto to grab 2-0 lead in best-of-seven Stanley Cup final. Third game is at Chicago Sunday. (AP Wirephoto.)

Colts Trying to Prove Pitching All They Need

By UP International

They always said pitching was 90 per cent of baseball but the Houston Colt 45s may yet prove it's really 100 per cent of the game.

The Colts aren't supposed to have anything else except pitching but that's all they've needed to become the surprise team of the 1962 major league baseball season. And it all comes as no surprise to general manager Paul Richards because that's the way he planned it.

The Colts made it three in a row Thursday when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Dean Stone. Their pitching staff has now allowed the grand total of two runs and 17 hits in three games—which means that either Richards and manager Harry Craft have come up with a "sleeper" pitching staff or that somebody bored holes in the Cubs' bats.

Stone, a native of Moline, Ill., who formerly pitched in the majors with the Washington Senators, Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, struck out nine batters and walked two. It was his first big league victory since May 26, 1957, when he shut out Baltimore.

GIANTS UNBEATEN
Stone, who had a 12-8 record for Charleston in the International League last season, was drafted by the Colts last Nov. 27. It was the second straight shutout turned in by Colt pitchers and ran the Cubs' string of consecutive scoreless innings to 19.

The San Francisco Giants also remained unbeaten in three games with an 8-4 decision over the Milwaukee Braves and the Los Angeles Dodgers ripped the Cincinnati Reds, 11-7, in other National League games while the Los Angeles Angels shaded the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, and the Minnesota Twins defeated the Kansas City A's 9-5, in American League games.

Jose Pagan drove in four runs with a triple, double and single to lead an eight-hit San Francisco attack that also included two hits by Harvey Kuenn. Jack Sanford went seven innings for the victory although Stu Miller took over in the eighth after Joe Adcock's grand-slam homer.

TIES RECORD
Rookie Pete Richert tied a big league record by striking out four batters in one inning—he also struck out six straight batters—in the Dodgers' second straight victory over the Reds. Back-to-back doubles by Wally Moon and Johnny Roseboro highlighted the Dodgers' seven-run fifth inning and paved the way for Richert to win his first big league game. Joey Jay, a 21-game winner last season, suffered his second straight loss.

In the private (un-sponsored) team standings, Cooper and Low have a narrow lead (450 penalty points to 496) over the Vancouver team of R. Alexander and J. Jellert.

Seven-a-Side Rugby Meet

Junior and senior rugby teams invade Windsor Park at 2 p.m. Saturday for the annual scored by Oak Bay Wanderers.

Double junior entries have been filed by Mt. Newton Junior High and Cowichan High. Other entries: Oak Bay High, Victoria High, Wanderers, PPCL, Canadian Scottish and Sea Cadets.

Senior competition has attracted eight entries. James Bay Athletic Association, Wanderers and Naval Tech have two teams, each. Vancouver Meralomas and Pedagogues, a group of up-Island teachers, round out the field.

Gordie Joins Old Favorites

Three old favorites and one of the new faces in this year's field this morning were looking for berths in the final of the 32nd annual Empress golf tournament.

The regulars were Seattle's Jerry Gleeson; Mike Pyke, defending Alberta Amateur champion from Calgary, and Pross Clark, the defending Empress titleholder from Portland.

The new face belonged to Colwood's Gord Greenwood, one of 12 Victorians that started in the original field of 125. The 18-hole final is to be played Saturday at Victoria Golf Club.

Greenwood, who took the toughest route in Friday's quarterfinals, drew Pyke in one semifinal today while the veteran Clark teed off with Gleeson.

WAGNER BEATEN

Greenwood had to go to the 18th green before knocking off Tacoma's Corey Wagner, one up. Pyke, who also lists the Empress championship as one of his former fairway triumphs, took an easy 5 and 3 decision from fellow Calgarian Bob Laughlin.

Clark disposed of Bob MacDonald of Calgary 3 and 2 while Gleeson defeated A. L. Powers of Portland, 2 and 1.

Only two other Victoria golfers were still in the running for a flight honor in addition to Greenwood. They were Vern Ferguson, who reached the fourth of the second flight, and Hugh McWhirter, a semifinalist in the sixth flight.

Bisons Even Puck Playoff

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) Dave Creighton, a balding 32-year-old centre who played for Hershey 10 years ago, led Buffalo Bisons to a 5-1 victory over the Bears Thursday night that tied their best-of-five American Hockey League semifinal playoff series at one game each.

Creighton scored one goal and assisted on two others.

Garagemen Win Squeaker

They don't have a Will Chamberlain or a Bob Cousy but they play some exciting basketball in the Independent Athletic Association League. Duncan Garage and Painters Fuel went three overtime periods before the Garagemen sank a free throw to take a 69-63 gasser.

Duncan Garage now meet St. Louis College Alumni, 53-29 winners over NW Creamery, in a sudden-death championship game Tuesday at Esquimalt Senior High School.

Kings won the IAA fivepin championship, defeating Sim's Auto Supply and Jordan's A in a rolloff. Dormans won the consolation award.

Wildlife Group Switches Times For Safety Class

Time of this Sunday's field trip in the junior safety program of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association has been switched, VFPGA officials announced today.

Due to tour the provincial museum and hear biologist Charlie Guiguet discuss exhibits and lecture on wildlife, the juniors will assemble at the museum at 10 a.m., instead of 2 p.m. as previously planned. Enrollment in this year's safety program is well above expectations, with 56 boys and girls taking the course.

MRS. G. H. LOVITT
... finalist again

Defending Champ Hoping To Stay With Form in Final

The defending champion, supplied by Victoria, and a challenger from Portland teed off this morning in the 18-hole playoff for the Empress ladies' golf championship.

And Mrs. G. H. Lovitt, bidding for a second straight claim on the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy, was hoping that form stayed with her in today's meeting with Portland's Mrs. John Flynn.

It was form that saw the Victoria golfer win all of her matches in comparatively easy fashion after a decidedly "too-tight" squeeze in the qualifying round.

In the qualifying round, six golfers scored net 83s but only two made the championship. Mrs. Lovitt was one of the two. After that, she left nothing to chance. Her toughest match was provided Friday by Mrs. R. C. Schrader, Calgary. Mrs. Lovitt won, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Flynn beat Mrs. Jack Robertson, also of Calgary, 3 and 2, in Friday's other semifinal at Uplands.

That put an end to Calgary's hopes of providing a champion in the 32nd annual tournament. Calgarians had the odds in their favor by nailing down exactly half of the 16 berths.

In addition to today's championship match, seven other flight finals were scheduled. Victorians were represented in four of them.

Friday's results:
Championship—Mrs. G. H. Lovitt (Victoria) defeated Mrs. R. C. Schrader (Calgary) 3-1; Mrs. J. Flynn (Portland) defeated Mrs. J. M. Robertson (Calgary) 3-2.

First Flight—Mrs. F. Bryan (Calgary) defeated Mrs. R. L. Berni (Portland) 4-3; Mrs. C. F. Roberts (Victoria) defeated Mrs. M. Myers (Portland) 3-2.

Second Flight—Mrs. R. Saunders (Victoria) defeated Mrs. C. Thompson (Victoria) 3-1; Mrs. E. Dye (Victoria) defeated Mrs. H. Wakelin (Victoria) 3-1.

Third Flight—Mrs. F. Royal (Seattle) defeated Mrs. P. Royal (Seattle) 2-1; Mrs. R. J. McPherson (Victoria) defeated Mrs. P. Smith (Victoria) at 100.

Fourth Flight—Mrs. C. W. Coffin (Portland) defeated Mrs. G. H. Wainman (Seattle) 4-3; Mrs. R. Adams (Vancouver, Wash.) defeated Mrs. A. R. Barrie (Calgary) 5-2.

Fifth Flight—Mrs. E. J. McClain (Portland) defeated Mrs. W. L. Halston (Portland) 1-0; Mrs. C. A. Bishop (Portland) defeated Mrs. R. H. McPherson (Victoria) 4-3.

GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Mike Heinen, age 11, Spokane, Wash., for his question:

What Do We Mean When We Say "A"?

The day begins in Spokane when the sun peeps above the eastern horizon. But at this same moment, the sun is setting in the western sky over Stalingrad. At the same time, it is midnight over New Zealand and high noon over the mid-Atlantic. The time zones were invented to clock the day and night periods as they move around and around the globe.

The earth rotates on its axis in about 24 hours. During this period the hands of a clock move around twice, showing 12 hours of day and 12 hours of night. The clock marks off the 24 hours of each calendar day but it does not tell us that the dawn breaks over New York three hours before sunrise over Spokane. It cannot tell us that noon arrives in Spokane two hours before it arrives in Honolulu.

The time zones were invented to give everyone a 12 clock for mid-day and a 12

ORAN HOUSES COMBED FOR OAS COMMANDOS

(CP From AP-Reuters)

ORAN—French riot police made a house-to-house search for Secret Army commandos in the heart of Oran today following a five-hour street battle in which five riot police and at least one Secret Army fighter were killed.

Civilian sources said the Secret Army received advance warning of the search and had time to pull out most of its men, their arms and equipment from the buildings from which they had fired on the riot police Thursday night.

'East and West Are Content To Watch Warily'

The East and the West will continue to live dangerously—but each is fearful of going beyond the point of no return.

That, says Prof. F. H. Soward, director of international studies at the University of British Columbia, is one of the few reasons for taking an optimistic view of the current international scene.

"There has been some relaxation of tension," he told Victoria Rotary Club Thursday, "but it is not to be improved goodwill but to the fact the big powers are content to watch each other warily."

Prof. Soward said the latest talks in Geneva have resulted in another deadlock. But they had produced a meeting of foreign ministers who represented not only the opposing alliances but eight neutral countries chosen to represent different points of view.

"They are to discuss a possible basis for complete and general disarmament as agreed to in principle by the Russians some three years ago."

INDEPENDENTLY

"The most pressing problem is the question of a ban on nuclear tests... The Russians said earlier it would be perfectly possible to solve this question independently of other phases of disarmament."

"Then they reversed their stand by saying the talks should be merged into a discussion on disarmament in general. They broke off all discussions and began an elaborate program of nuclear tests."

Prof. Soward said the problem of disarmament is so complicated that, after 17 years of discussion, it is still only in the preliminary realm.

SURPRISES?

"Unless there is radical change, I cannot foresee any significant achievements in the direction of general disarmament. But we may be pleasantly surprised. The eight countries and our own country may be able to find some basis for negotiation."

"They have until June 1 before they make a report on the problem."

Apparently Mr. Wertheim-Aymes opened his bedroom door and then the kitchen door leading to the back of the house. The resulting draft swept the flames forward into a glassed-in front porch.

DOUBLE BUNK

In the children's room, opposite their parents, two slept in a double bunk against the inside wall, one in a single bed by another wall and little Clemens in a crib in the middle of the room.

William Watkins, 283 Rudyard, was one of the volunteer firemen to assist.

"The thing that always worries you when that thing (the alarm) goes off in the middle of the night," he said, "is whether everybody is out."

"Three minutes more without warning," he said, "and

Publishers Would Save Slay Author

BELGRADE (AP)—William Jovanovic, president of the New York publishing house of Harcourt, Brace and World Incorporated, said Thursday he is willing to destroy proofs of Milovan Djilas' latest book if the Yugoslav government will free the author from prison.

Djilas, once the No. 2 man in Communist Yugoslavia, was arrested Saturday and sent back to prison for violating a parole by which he had agreed to refrain from political writings and activities harmful to the country.

It is believed that material he supplied for articles published abroad about his new book Conversations With Stalin were behind his arrest. Jovanovic's firm was scheduled to publish the book in a few weeks but has put off publication indefinitely.

Seamen Arrested Quit Grain Ship

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seven seamen who walked off the British freighter North Devon Thursday in protest against sailing to Communist China with a cargo of wheat have been arrested and charged with desertion.

The sailors were arrested Thursday night, after they were located in a men's hostel here. The seven are to appear in court today.

Police said two other members of the crew are still wanted. Officers said they had left the hostel before the police arrived.

The nine men had already made one trip to Communist China. They said they were determined not to return, but would sail anywhere else in the world.

"We won't go back to Tientsin and get pushed around by the secret police," said one crew member in an interview. "We were treated like dogs. We were sometimes allowed ashore to a kind of mission, but there was nothing there but Communist slogans."

"They went through our cabins, searched our private effects and stole our letters."

The strikers are all deckhands, ranging in age from 17 to 25. They are from the North Devon area. The vessel which sails today is owned by the North Steamship Company.

Ship on Fire In Mid-Ocean

LONDON (AP)—The 7,259-ton Liberian freighter Portador caught fire today and was abandoned by her crew in the Atlantic, 250 miles west of the Republic of Ireland.

The British steamship Isaac Carter radioed that she had taken all members of the Portador's crew aboard. The Isaac Carter said the Portador was "a burning wreck and a danger to navigation."

These exclusive features make Lawn-Boy your best power mower buy!

Easy Starting. Every Lawn-Boy starts with one pull because of a larger starting drum and hotter, 18,000 volt magneto. On-Off switch prevents accidental starting.

Lightweight. The new Lawn-Boy castings are ultra-light magnesium to take the "push" out of mowing.

Blade Stiffener. Every Lawn-Boy has an exclusive blade stiffener which prevents the turning force from arching it, keeps it level to cut level.

Clog-proof Grasscatcher. The design of Lawn-Boy's grasscatcher attachment is exclusive. By filling the back of the bag first it will not clog and holds a bushelfull.

Quiet. Every Lawn-Boy mower, with its extra large muffler, has been designed for quiet operation.

Safety Catch. The handle has a special safety catch to prevent you from walking into the mower if an obstacle brings it to a sudden stop. Housings are safety approved by the American Standards Association.

Coast to Coast service. Lawn-Boy has more service centers than any other manufacturer.

Warranty. Every Lawn-Boy has a full two year warranty.

Ask your Lawn-Boy dealer to show you why more people buy Lawn-Boy than any other make. Choose from 7 Lawn-Boy models.

CENTURY-OLD APPAREL FOR CITY ALDERMEN?

Aldermen may dress up in century-old clothes for a 100th birthday party planned by Saanich council in the city's honor.

The suggestion for wearing costumes at the May 8 and 9 celebration was made by Ald. Geoffrey Edgell. It followed city council's acceptance of Saanich invitation to attend the festivities at the Mattick Farm market on Cordova Bay Road.

Mayor R. B. Wilson will light the candles on a 100-foot-long "birthday cake" during an 8:30 p.m. ceremony May 8. A pageant will be presented among a variety of events.

"They are planning a fine show and it would be a shame if there weren't 50,000 Victorians out there," said Ald. Austin Curtis.

"It is a delightful gesture by Saanich," said Mayor Wilson.

High-Rise Blocks Approved By City

Building permits for two more high-rise apartment blocks, including the first one for Dallas Road, were issued by City Hall Thursday.

Total value of the two high-rise and a third smaller apartment building is $1,607,000. Altogether they will provide 195 suites.

The Dallas Road project involves a 10-storey structure of 50 suites and an underground parking garage at the corner of Menzies.

Joint Talks On Apartment Controversy

A special joint meeting of aldermen and the advisory planning commission will be arranged to resolve a conflict over proposed erection of a high-rise apartment block on Douglas opposite Thunderbird Park.

The planning commission repeated opposition to the proposal at a city council meeting Thursday, contending the site is too small for a 12-storey building and would detract from the area.

Several aldermen and Mayor R. B. Wilson contended that the vacant property lends itself to a tall, slender building and the regulations should be relaxed.

Ald. M. H. Mooney argued that "nine out of 10 times in the past we have been proven wrong" when making special concessions to developers and no relaxation should be permitted.

OTTAWA 'PLAYING POLITICS'

Indians' Timber Contract Stalled

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A B.C. Indian leader accused the federal government Thursday of playing politics with the timber rights of a West Coast Indian band.

White-haired Rev. Peter Kelly, of Nanaimo, who will be 76 on April 21 and is considered the elder statesman of B.C. Indians, issued his charge after meeting with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Citizenship Minister Fairclough.

After meeting briefly with Diefenbaker again today, Rev. Kelly said his discussions were of a friendlier nature and that the PM had promised to do all he could so new tenders could be dealt with as soon as possible.

The dispute concerns the sale, through the Indian Affairs branch, of timber rights on the Tsimpsan Indian Reserve near Prince Rupert.

Beaufort Industries of Victoria entered a $1.7 million bid for the timber contract, while Shoreline Lumber of Vancouver bid $792,000.

COLLUSION CHARGED

The contract was awarded to Shoreline but cancelled after Niagara Falls MP Judy LaMarsh last month charged "bare-faced collusion" in the deal. She named John Ladner, son of prominent B.C. Conservative Leon Ladner, as a principal in Shoreline, a charge denied by Ladner.

At a press conference following his meetings with Diefenbaker and Mrs. Fairclough, Kelly was asked if he was suggesting the government, by calling for new tenders, was attempting to delay dealing with the problem until after a federal election.

"I'm not a politician," smiled Kelly. "But one is inclined to that conclusion. I think it is something like that."

The 1,000-member band, he explained, wants the contract awarded to Beaufort right away so they will be able to take advantage before the winter of the jobs to be offered by the company in the logging operation.

He had explained this to both the prime minister and Mrs. Fairclough. The prime minister had assured him, he said, that he was in office to see that "justice is done."

'UNSATISFACTORY'

The meeting with Mrs. Fairclough was "completely unsatisfactory... served no purpose," the minister said.

He said the band wanted 12,800 acres of timber put up for sale to Beaufort right away, and that Mrs. Fairclough, by putting only 4,800 acres of it up, was "betraying a trust."

AUTOPSY has been scheduled on the body of Henry Ogden Phipps, 31, found in a New York suite Thursday in what police call mysterious circumstances. Phipps is the son of a socially prominent Ogden Phipps and Mrs. Marshall Field III. (AP Wirephoto.)

Lafarge Cement Profits Decline

VANCOUVER (CP) — Net profit of Lafarge Cement of North America Ltd. and its subsidiary companies declined by about 27 per cent to $30,806 in 1961. The figure compared with a net profit of $42,497 in the previous year.

Lafarge President James Sinclair has reported the company showed an operating loss of $104,642 for the year compared with $38,896 in 1960. But income from investments and sale of investments and capital assets resulted in a net profit.

City May Give $2,550 To Reservations Centre

Aldermen Thursday indicated they may go it alone in giving a $2,550 grant to the hotel and motel reservations clearing house here.

Other municipalities have refused to contribute to the Centennial-Century 21 Accommodation Centre established in Victoria and a council committee also recommended rejection.

However, Mayor R. B. Wilson and Ald. Austin Curtis said a chaotic situation would occur for this summer's bumper crop of tourists if the reservation centre had to fold up for lack of funds.

They said the hotel and motel industry had contributed to the centre but the avalanche of advance reservations required a drastic staff increase to keep up with the work.

Ald. J. L. W. McLean countered that the city might give the centre a loan to help it keep operating but not a grant. "There are plenty of people who won't be fussy about putting up taxpayers' money for an industry that will be making a profit," he said.

Others remonstrated that the reservations centre was a non-profit service to help prevent visitors being stranded.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell said the city should help because the service would assist many homeowners hoping to rent rooms.

BOOKED SOLIDLY

He said many hotels and motels already were booked solidly so would not benefit further from the service "but it will help private homes offering tourists accommodation this year."

Council referred the request for a grant to intermunicipal committee and said it would reconsider the grant itself if the other municipalities remained adamant.

Port Hardy Next Gagliardi Promises

CAMPBELL RIVER — Ceremonies marking the current operations to complete the Campbell River-Kelsey Bay Road drew the promise from Highways Minister Gagliardi Thursday that the road will be pushed on to Port Hardy as soon as possible.

"It will be done as soon as it is economically feasible," he said. "I promise to work as hard as I can toward this end."

Highlight of the unique "sod-turning" ceremony Thursday afternoon, midway along the 50-mile stretch of road which now is being improved, was the approach from opposite directions of tractors driven by Mr. Gagliardi and Bruce Brown, former Prince Rupert MLA. Mr. Brown acted in place of R. Downing, Alaska commissioner of highways and public works, who was called to a meeting in Ottawa.

$3 MILLION JOB

Two contractors are at work on the road, where about $2,000,000 will be spent in widening and straightening the route, and applying a flush coat of oil.

It will be the main route to Port Hardy, another 75 miles farther on, which can now be reached only by boat or aircraft.

Children Blamed

PORT ALBERNI — Children were thought to have caused a flash fire at 504 Argyle St. Wednesday which resulted in an estimated $3,000 damage.

The children were playing at the back of the house, owned by Dr. N. H. Jones, where a can of gasoline was kept.

The house was insured.

Mr. Gagliardi carried the major load of the celebrations, giving speeches at Campbell River High School, at a contractors' luncheon, at the ceremony site, and finally at a public dinner at the community hall.

The day-long program was conducted under sponsorship of Campbell River and District Chamber of Commerce. Alan Maclean and Carl Swabey had charge of arrangements.

READY FOR START of cavalcade to ceremony site were Mr. Gagliardi, at wheel of 1910 Reo, and Ald. Sid Williams of Courtenay as "Century Sam," character he created for B.C. Centenary in 1958. (Agnes Flett Photos.)

New Curling Rink Backed By 78.1%

PORT ALBERNI — A $250,000 bylaw for construction of a combined skating and curling rink passed with a comfortable majority of 78.1 per cent here Thursday.

To this sum will be added $68,450 in insurance money paid following burning of the curling rink Feb. 17.

The issue attracted 1,577 of the 4,000 qualified voters. A majority of 60 per cent was required for passage.

LADYSMITH — Final touches were put on the curling season here as top curlers received their trophies at the annual Ladysmith Curling Club banquet.

Club president Bob Timothy and his rink of Stew Battie, Vic Allen and Alec Tomczyk won the league championship. Len Ryan, Village Commission chairman, made the presentation.

Sidp Murray Chadwick, Don Kerr, Clem Savard and Ron Oman took the consolation trophy.

'FOREGO PRIVILEGE OF ENTERING CANDIDATES

Former Liberal Asks 'Free Run' for Tory

COURTENAY — A former Liberal party member and former trade unionist, J. Ross Anderson of Campbell River, Thursday night urged Tories and Liberals in Comox-Alberni federal riding to give their support in the next federal election to the Conservative candidate.

He spoke at the Progressive Conservative nominating meeting here when Harry McQuillan, MP, was chosen unanimously to carry the party's colors once again in the up-Island riding.

FOREGO PRIVILEGE

Mr. Anderson, a former member of the IWA and former secretary of the Campbell River district labor council, called on Tories and Liberals to "forego the privilege of entering candidates in the federal election, and back Mr. McQuillan."

He also condemned trade union support of the New Democratic Party, and called the NPD "Communist."

NEVER HIGHER

Feature speaker at the meeting was Federal Fisheries Minister E. David Fulton, who said "Canada's international stature "has never been higher nor more outstanding" than it has under External Affairs Minister Green.

The federal minister said Liberal party claims that Canada's reputation in the world has declined are "an insult to the intelligence of Canadians."

He said Mr. Green "has earned the admiration of all for his strong and determined stand in the cause of peace."

"Liberal cries and wallings do a great injustice to our representatives abroad," he said.

"They are destructive and not constructive, and they do nothing to aid Canada in their fight for a future free from war."

Both Mr. Fulton and Mr. Mc-

Quillan discussed achievements in the fishing industry, but made no mention of the current Puntledge River fish-powder controversy pending the report of the Angus Royal Commission on the matter.

Mr. Fulton said a 170-foot fisheries research vessel will be completed this year, and that facilities at the Nanaimo Biological Station of the Fisheries Research Board will be expanded.

CIGARETTE AD CUTS AGREED TO BY DANES

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Leaders of the Danish tobacco industry agreed Wednesday night to cut down advertising of cigarettes because of recent medical reports attributing the increase of lung cancer to cigarette smoking, informed sources said.

The industry leaders agreed at a meeting with Interior Minister Lars P. Jensen to eliminate all cigarette advertising in movie houses and in weekly papers popular with teen-agers. Advertising in daily newspaper will continue as before.

Berlin Talks to Resume Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department announced Thursday that the United States and Russia will resume talks on Berlin at a meeting Monday between State Secretary Rusk and Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin.

Meanwhile, Gen. Lucius D. Clay told Rusk in an hour-long conference Thursday that he believes the decline in Soviet-made tensions over Berlin will last "for some time." Clay said this improves the atmosphere for negotiations on a Berlin settlement.

New Zodiac Model

LONDON (Reuters)—The Ford Motor Company of Britain today launched its new Zodiac—a family car designed to snatch business in overseas markets. Known in the trade as the Zodiac Mark III, the car has undergone more than 1,000,000 miles of tests from the cold of Sweden to the heat of the torpica.

Clay returned from Berlin Wednesday to arrange for the orderly termination of his assignment as President Kennedy's personal representative in West Berlin.

CAR'S IN, TIDE'S OUT

Unplanned car wash in wee sma' hours today fortunately took place at low tide, as 1959 sedan nearly disappeared in waters at foot of James

Bay Anglers' launching ramp, near VMD on Dallas Road. How car got there is mystery to city police, and also to car's owner. (Times Photo.)

Poles Down By End Of Year

Downtown power poles and overhead wiring are coming down, although the pace may appear slow.

A B.C. Electric spokesman today said almost 10 per cent of the poles have been removed from the 30-block downtown core where underground wiring was installed over the last three years.

"The poles will be all down by the end of the year," the official said.

No overnight vanishing of poles and wiring is possible because all the downtown buildings have to be connected to the new underground wiring first.

About 46 per cent of the buildings have hooked up already but it will take most of the summer to connect the bulk of the remainder.

The poles have to be removed on a 'step-by-step' basis in scattered locations because just one unconnected building in a block can hold up removal of the poles in that area.

Elderly Woman Dies After Street Mishap

An elderly woman became Greater Victoria's third 1962 traffic fatality when she died early this morning after being in collision with a car Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ethel Crossley, 325 Alder, succumbed to multiple injuries in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 1 a.m. today.

Driver of the car involved was reportedly Mabel Harvey, 1749 Newton, and the accident occurred opposite the Veterans' Hospital on Richmond Rd. at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Crossley was 70.

Police said the woman apparently was crossing Richmond from the west side. The car was southbound.

The accident occurred about 70 feet from the corner of the Bay and Richmond covered bus stop.

Mrs. Crossley was on her way home from visiting her husband, a patient since March 17 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Police today asked the Times to aid in an appeal for witnesses who might have been in the bus stop at the time of the accident. The police traffic office telephone is EV 4-1114.

A neighbor described the Crossleys as a quiet, retired couple who had lived on Alder for almost three years.

DAILY VISIT

Mrs. Crossley visited her husband each afternoon at the hospital and came home early in the evening, the neighbor said.

The couple evidently have only one relative, a daughter in Edmonton.

The accident was reported to police by C. Norton Welch, 857 Goldstream, a teacher at Central Junior High School.

Mrs. Crossley was rushed to Jubilee Hospital by a Saanich fire department ambulance which was nearby.

The ambulance had been called to Lansdowne and Richmond on a resuscitator call but on arrival was not needed.

It was subsequently relayed to Richmond and Bay to pick up the injured woman.

She had injuries to her head and in addition a broken left leg and right arm.

It is believed a coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday.

PROUDLY DISPLAYING the flag of the United Nations won by the local branch of the UN Association is former mayor Percy Scurrell and association president Dr. Hartley Sargent. The flag was awarded to the Victoria branch for its having increased its membership in 1961 more than any other branch in Canada. It exceeded its quota by more than seven and a half times to bring membership up to a record 250. This week the association is launching a campaign for more members and funds. Mr. Scurrell has consented to be chairman of the drive which will last into May.

'TRADEMARK' PREPARATION STARTS SOON

Preparation of Victoria's trademark—flower baskets—will begin in about a week's time, city parks administrator W. H. Warren said today.

A total of 625 baskets will be made up for centennial year, 125 more than in the past.

They will be hung on cluster light standards during the first week of June.

$1.2 Million Sewer Plan For Saanich

Plans for a new sewer scheme expected to cost at least $1,200,000 were revealed today by Saanich municipal engineer Neville Life.

The sewer area comprises the Gorge-Marigold-Whiteside-Tillicum-Sedger and Biscoe districts; the Swan Lake sector to Christmas Hill and the Glanford Garden area.

SUBMITTED MONDAY

The project has the backing of the public works committee and will be submitted to council Monday for approval.

It is larger than the Shelbourne-Gordon Head system which is nearing completion.

"With the exception of a few small areas this project will complete the sewerage of the urban area of the municipality," said Mr. Life.

He added that the proposed system will serve a population of about 7,000.

Mr. Life said treatment plants will be installed to take care of sewage.

"The plants will be the best available in order to ensure that there is no contamination of the Gorge water," he said.

Sewage disposal in this area is at present a serious problem, Mr. Life said.

Due to the widespread use of septic tanks the soil is unable to take the effluent.

Two Park Plans For Colwood Land

A total of 140 acres of choice but contentious Colwood property, the Department of National Defence land on the Island Highway, has two chances of becoming a park.

George Chatterton, Esquimalt-Saanich MP, said here today he has recommended to the federal government that the land, site of the former Colwood race track, be retained for park development in connection with the 40 acres at historic Fort Rodd Hill, which already has been approved as a park and will be opened this year.

The other alternative comes Chamber of Commerce, which has applied for a three-year lease on the property for use as a public park and exhibition grounds. The chamber applied for the lease when the B.C. Agricultural Association was forced to let its lease lapse a month ago for non-payment of rent.

Reid MacKell, chamber president, said the national park proposal would halt the chamber's plans, which as yet are not complete.

"But we think we have a good chance as anyone of getting the lease, and understand we'll be able to renew it once we get it," he said.

The property now is under the jurisdiction of the national defence department which, Mr. Chatterton said, had planned to turn it over to Crown Assets Disposal Corporation.

GREAT MISTAKE

"But I thought this would be a great mistake in view of plans to develop the old fort property and protested the proposed sale," he said while outlining arrangements for the Fort Rodd Hill site.

The minister agreed not to sell the land, he said.

The Esquimalt-Saanich member envisaged the incorporation of the Colwood property with Fort Rodd Hill, which would provide a total of 180 acres of land for development into a national park.

He said other small parcels of land owned by the department of national defence could also be added.

He said a Fort superintendent will be appointed in the near future to prepare the property for public use.

He said money to pay for a custodian is included in this year's estimates as well as $25,000 to clean up the property and make it acceptable for public use.

"We won't be able to do too much with the property this year," he said, "but it will be opened to the public."

CONTRACT OUT

He is in favor of the government contracting the planning of Fort Rodd Hill to the Capital Region Planning Board.

"The fort's restoration and planning should be left to people in this area," he said.

"They know the history of the district and what should be done to restore the property."

Fort Rodd Hill, on the west shore of Esquimalt Harbor, is reached through Belmont Park by way of Belmont Road. It

Smaller, Smaller, Smaller

Plans for the new airport terminal at Patricia Bay envision a building only slightly larger than the present one.

This became apparent today after Esquimalt-Saanich MP George Chatterton revealed that the plans have been cut back again by 6,000 square feet of floor space.

This would provide a total of 23,000 square feet in the proposed new building, he said.

George Hees, then transport minister, announced in 1958 that the new terminal building would be a two-storey building 280 by 775 feet providing a total of 39,000 square feet.

He said that would be about double the size of the existing building.

In addition, the plans included a 100 by 50-foot separate customs and immigration building joined by a covered walkway to the terminal. This apparently was dropped last August when Mr. Chatterton said plans still called for a 280 by 775-foot building but did not mention the separate customs and immigration centre.

The original announcement by Ottawa five years ago said the terminal would be 100 by 400 feet in size.

MONTE ROBERTS

Whatever happens to any other crusade (don't look now, but what is happening?), I am convinced that the Shih! Silent Centennial crusade was a successfully losing effort, in the best tradition.

There is every indication the word is getting abroad that Victoria is 100 years old this year.

Part of the blame for the failure of the Silent Centennial can be laid to the door of the centennial committee itself, which seems bound and determined to remove the veil of silence from the centenary.

The latest effort of the committee is a bright little folder inviting one and all to visit Victoria during its birthday year.

It is an attractive job, light-heartedly illustrated, and indicating that great doings are in view, including such spectacular events as centennial log-rolling contests (in this capital city there are some wondrous log-rollers) and centennial flower-watching exhibitions.

But on the back page is a compendium of information which drew me up short and set me to shaking with fear.

The back page is devoted to a map of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland showing the various means of transportation by which persons may reach this Island.

And—this is the frightening part—leave this Island.

I have, of course, been vaguely aware that the transportation picture has been changing.

But a map showing all the routes at once is a chilling sight... ferries between Departure Bay and Horseshoe Bay, Nanaimo and Vancouver, Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen, Sidney and Anacortes, Victoria and Port Angeles, Victoria and Seattle.

And as if that isn't enough, airline connections between Patricia Bay, Seattle, and Vancouver.

I realize that most of the residents of Vancouver Island are sane enough to resist the siren call of all these means of transport, and to stay right here where they belong.

But there is always that group of less stable folk who have occasionally thought of going to, say, Vancouver.

With all these routes between which to choose, it is becoming all too easy to yield to temptation.

Ah, what dangers we hazard in the name of progress!

School Tax Rates Lower This Year

Greater Victoria ratepayers will pay a slightly lower school mill rate this year but rural Saanich school district homeowners will win substantial relief, Education Minister Leslie Peterson announced today.

The Saanich district school levy will drop from 19.6 mills last year to 17.92 this year. Greater Victoria district's mill rate will be shaved from 19.16 last year to 19.06.

The government grant towards higher costs will increase from $3,403,586 in 1961 to $3,808,716 this year.

He released the figures at a press conference in which he portrayed a province-wide picture of higher government grants to school districts and lower mill rates for taxpayers.

BASIC REDUCTION

The basic provincial mill rate for operating expenses is set at 15.10—a reduction of 40 mills from 1961.

The Greater Victoria mill rate of 19.06 will include the basic 15.10 levy charged in all districts, 1.65 mills for excess operating costs which the government will not share, 2.54 mills for debt and capital expenditure and a credit of 23 mills reduction for surplus funds unused from last year's grant.

Mr. Peterson said 55 of the 82 school districts are getting bigger grants than last year. None is getting less.

Fifty-nine of the districts have cut their mill rates.

"School boards are to be commended for their efforts in holding the cost level for 1961 and 1962 to nominal increases, and they merit the appreciation of both provincial governments and the local taxpayers," he said.

Mr. Peterson said mill rates are up in 23 districts this year.

"I trust during the year boards of these districts will seriously study their costs local school mill rates for 1963," he said.

$2.52 PER CENT

Total operating expense in all schools this year is $111,832,835, of which the government is paying $58,739,175, or 52.52 per cent.

The rest must be raised by the basic 15.10 mill levy plus whatever non-shareable extras each district may want.

Mr. Peterson said the operating costs which the government pays are based on a lump sum grant of $2,560 per approved teacher.

This method allows local districts to spend their money as they wish.

It also carries the proviso that no district shall get less tax than it did last year.

This has averted a big drop in the grant to Vancouver, which feared it would lose $1,000,000 under the new formula.

GETTING MORE

Vancouver actually is getting $145,000 more than it would have under last year's formula, said Mr. Peterson.

The operating grant to Saanich School District is $580,667, and its mill rate is cut from 19.60 last year to 17.92.

Other Island grants: Sooke, $475,909; Gulf Islands $43,206; Cowichan $495,910; Ladysmith $350,434; Lake Cowichan $38,482; Nanaimo $917,431; Qualicum $234,179; Alberni $444,211; Courtenay $860,176; Campbell River, $2,730; Ucluelet-Tofino $61,639.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. I have noticed a boulder near the sunken rose garden of the Parliament Buildings with a large ring bolt attached to it. Could you please tell me where this came from? H.A.

A. This is an old ship's mooring ring that was dredged out of Victoria's Harbor some twenty years ago.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Question and answers will be published daily.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Mrs. Jack Harvey, the former Georgia Hunt, is asked to call Victoria city police regarding an urgent family matter.

The appeal has originated with a sister of Mrs. Harvey's who is presently ill in a Montreal rest home.

It is believed Mrs. Harvey moved to this city from Calgary.

A meeting of the Tillicum-Hampton PTA will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Tillicum School.

BRIEFING CANVASSERS Harry Lou-Poy and Fun Lee on the needs of St. Joseph's Hospital is nurse Mabel Lum. Both men are members of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association and will be spearheading the hospital's campaign in the Chinese community. A meeting of the association Wednesday will decide organization and assign areas to individual canvassers. Overall Greater Victoria target in the campaign is $350,000 for a new wing and better internal facilities. (Times Photo.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

Bunnies Best Get Hopping To Be Prepared for Easter

By PENNY SAVER

News Flash! All Easter Bunnies in the Victoria area will be pleased to hear that there's a fine supply of goodies on the market at present. However, Bunnies are warned to pick up what they'll need now to avoid disappointment later.

Believe me, right now, there's everything in the way of goodies you could imagine.

Molded chocolate candy is always a hit with youngsters and it comes in many shapes.

Rabbits, from wee babies at 25 cents to big grand-daddy's at $1.95 would please any child. And, believe it or not, there are molded chocolate fish on the market, too, for only 69 cents.

For Mama and Papa you'll find large mugs and saucers filled to capacity with Easter eggs and chocolate goodies selling for $1.49.

Little girls would love the dainty white straw handbags I've seen, that are almost bursting with candy. Guarding the "loot" is a tiny plush dog, and perched on the handle, a feathered bird and a petite butterfly. A sum of $1.19 is all you'll pay for this bag of treats.

Of course, Bunnies wouldn't think of passing up the wee boys in the family. So, there are plastic yachts filled to capacity with a variety of candy. Yacht is skippered by a feathered chick, assisted by a marshmallow rabbit. How much for a cruise? Only 99 cents.

I know the young lady of the family would like to receive the chocolate-filled egg I've discovered.

Shell is chocolate, covered with colored foil, and the inside is filled with delicious chocolates.

On top of the shell is a large ribbon corsage that she could wear long after the chocolate is gone.

These eggs range in price from $1.69 to $4.95 and they are simply gorgeous!

Any Bunny wanting to know where Penny saw these lovely Easter-treats would be wise to call right away.

A farewell luncheon was held recently by Canadian Girls in Training committee of Victoria, in the Kings Road home of Mrs. J. Ingram Smith, for Mrs. Ralph Easter, a member of the board, who is leaving with Rev. Easter to make their home in Ontario.

Special guests at the luncheon were Mrs. R. Davis, a former member of long standing and Rev. Laura Butler, who presented a gift to the guest of honor.

Other guests included Mrs. W. Harrison, Mrs. G. Hoglund, Mrs. J. W. Stephen, Mrs. C. Warren, Mrs. J. MacLean, Miss W. Ripley, Mrs. A. Hall, Mrs. T. Cooper and Mrs. F. Ralph.

Spadea's International Designer Pattern

Two wonderful ways to look in pants, with all figuring for flattery worked out by Tom Brigrance. The trim slacks feature the new wider leg, welcomed by many women who prefer more ease than skinny pants afford. Released front pleats minimize the tummy and prevent gapping at the side pocket. A high-cut crotch is responsible for the no-sag no-bag back view. The Capri pants are designed with all the finesse that is essential for a lean lithe look. Pockets are omitted to avoid any interference with the sleek line that starts at the slightly raised waist and tapers to a smooth stop just short of the ankle. A carefully darted inner band holds the waistline to its smallest dimension. Let your choice of fabrics for each style (both are included in this pattern) be dictated by your mood, and don't overlook the wonderful new knits. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

Sizes	Waist	Hips
8	23	34 inches
10	24	35 inches
12	25	36 inches
14	26 1/2	37 1/2 inches
16	28	39 inches

Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36" fabric for the slacks; 2 1/2 yards of 36" fabric for the Capri pants.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Eggs Can Be Up, Over or Poached—But Watch Butter!

Q. "How many more calories does a fried egg have than a poached egg?"

A. The egg itself has the same number of calories whether it is fried or poached. It depends on the amount of butter or margarine which is used. Usually you use more butter when frying than when just seasoning a poached egg. A tablespoon of butter gives you about 100 calories.

Q. "How many calories in pizza?"

A. I do not know how to calculate this since pizza is made in so many different ways. It is not a slimming item.

Q. "I read your column about tall women. I always wished to be shorter. I am 5 feet, 8 inches tall and weigh 110 pounds. I have many friends and they tell me how lucky I am not to have to watch what I eat. Most of them have to diet. Sometimes I feel that they are making fun of me."

"In the summer I am a mess. I don't wear shorts or go swimming. People keep asking me to go and I keep making excuses. I have been to my doctor and he says I am in perfect health and not to worry. I am thinking of taking some pills I read about. What do you think?"

A. Evidently your doctor feels that your underweight is not caused by poor health or any organic abnormality, but you really are underweight, even if you have a small frame. Try to gain at least 10 or 12 pounds, but in the meantime do not let thinness spoil your fun with your friends. Evidently you are popular and your friends do not find your underweight unattractive.

Go swimming—because you will enjoy it and because it is the very best exercise for you. It is a wonderful way to fill out your curves.

Q. "I am 53 years old but look 73. I have had all of my lower teeth extracted. Could this be why I look so old?"

A. You did not say whether you have false teeth. Of course, if you do not have, this would make you look older. In fact they are often an improvement unless your natural teeth were attractive.

Q. "I am 11 years old and am 56 inches tall. I weigh 83 pounds. Am I overweight? All of my friends weigh between 80 and 93 pounds. Could you please tell us how we can cut sweets out entirely? Please help all of us. By the way, my mother keeps ice cream in the house all the time. Don't print my name, please, just my initials." D. B.

A. You are really very little overweight, if any, D. B. Eighty pounds is about right. You can have some sweets, but do not eat them just before meals and not too many. You do not need to be any fatter so go easy on the ice cream.

"If you would like to have my leaflet, 'Menus for Career Girls,' send a stamped, self-

New Hair-Do and No Hat

LONDON (AP)—The Queen has changed her hair style. Curls have come forward over her face. Something's been cut off at the back. There's more body to the hair, a suggestion of the bouffant worn by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the Queen's sister, Princess Margaret.

Late last month Mrs. Kennedy lunched with the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

The Queen emerged in her new hair style for the first time Thursday. Occasion was her drive by car from nearby Windsor Castle to Badminton to attend the three-day annual Badminton horse trials.

The Queen, accompanied by Princess Anne—also in a new hair-do—arrived hatless.

Mrs. Maso Ireland, right, is a visitor in the city at present from Sydney, Australia, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Victor Gadsby, at her home on Wenman Drive in Gordon Head. The sisters are together for the first time in seven years. Mrs. Ireland lived in Victoria before her marriage and is being entertained by old friends during her visit. She leaves again for Australia at the end of April.

Jury Duty for Women Still in Minority

TORONTO (CP)—Most of the bastions against equality of the sexes have come tumbling down but the polished walnut walls of the jury box are resisting to the bitter end.

A cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press shows that although there are only three provinces that bar women from jury service, they are never seen in two others and rarely in another four.

Ontario is the exception. Not only are women called for jury duty (about one in every 100 is a woman), but the attorney-general has asked for more.

The seven provinces that officially allow women jurors are Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. There are plenty of loopholes for women who don't want to serve.

In Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Quebec women jurors are unknown.

WOMEN LOBBY

Ontario has long had women on its juries. Recently, however, women's organizations have been lobbying for better representation. Attorney-General Kejo Roberts subsequently asked sheriff's officers to oblige when they next call juries.

Unlike men, women may be exempted simply by filling a form claiming exemption. They don't need an excuse.

Mrs. L. G. Lymburner, president of the 38,000-strong Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, says she doesn't approve of it being made so easy for women to beg off. Every woman, she said, should be prepared to serve unless her duties as a mother prevent it.

In Nova Scotia, women have been permitted to serve as long as men. But it wasn't until Halifax Alderman Abbie Lane headed a protest by women's organizations three years ago that they ever reached the jury box. Even now they serve only in Halifax.

DEAR ABBY . . .

There ARE Two Sides!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print something in your column about hairdressers. Why do they think they have to talk all the time? I go to the beauty parlor for a hair-do, not to listen to how hard they work, petty gossip about the other employees in the shop and all the dirt about the person they took care of before me. I travel quite a bit and find that it is the same no matter where I go. My husband says this is true of barbers, too.

DEAR ABBY: I also travel quite a bit, and I get the other side of the story. Hairdressers tell me they wish their customers would just relax and be quiet instead of telling them their troubles and gossiping about everyone they know. My husband gets around a lot, too, and tells me this is what the barbers tell him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our class who is knockout to look at. She has a face and figure every girl envies and she has a great personality to go with it. Our problem is that she must be afraid of men. She is asked for dates, but if a boy even tries to put his arm around her, she hauls off and just about fractures his skull. They say that it is like pulling teeth to get her to go out a second time with a fellow who is even mildly affectionate. How can we help her?

CLASS MATES

DEAR CLASS MATES: Fix her up with a dental student!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nine years. I married young just to get out of the house. I was completely honest with my husband and told him before he married me that I didn't love him. He said he would take that chance and I would learn to love him later.

We have five beautiful children. I respect him and admire him and am proud to be his wife because he is a kind and generous man and a wonderful father, but I still have not learned to love him. I am a good and faithful wife, but I know now that I will never have the kind of love every woman dreams of. (Not within my marriage at least.) Should I continue this loveless marriage? I am thinking of my children.

MISSING SOMETHING

DEAR MISSING: Keep thinking of those children. Many women have written to tell me that they married for "love" (the kind every woman dreams of) but it didn't last long. The reasons: they neither admired nor respected their husbands. If yours is kind, generous and a wonderful father, count your blessings. No one has everything!

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

National BPW Convention At St. Andrew's By the Sea

More than 400 delegates and observers from all parts of Canada will attend the national convention, held biennially, of Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, at the famed New Brunswick holiday resort, St. Andrew's by the Sea, July 9 to 13. It was announced by Miss Una MacLean, Calgary, national president of the organization.

Members going to New Brunswick from the Pacific Coast and the western provinces will converge on Montreal to join a special train for the Atlantic Coast.

Following arrival of the train at St. Andrew's, registrations will commence at the Algonquin, the big resort hotel which is to be headquarters for the convention. 350 delegates and observers will be accommodated in the hotel with overflow going to lovely tourist homes nearby. Business sessions will be held in the Casino.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS

Resolutions of vital interest to business and professional women will be discussed at this convention. Outstanding women will speak, including Miss Marion Royce, director of the women's bureau, department of labor at Ottawa; Miss Mary Louise Lynch, only woman on Canada's parole board, and Mrs. Esther Peterson, director of women's bureau and assistant to the secretary of labor of the United States, who will address the final convention banquet.

Three seminars are planned, on the role of women in business, industry and the labor force; in government and in international affairs. There will also be a workshop on membership.

Included on the program is a special opening luncheon at which provincial and municipal representatives will greet the convention; also two banquets, the first to honor outgoing national officers and the second to culminate the week's proceedings and to honor the incoming national president and her officers.

Miss Clara McAuley, Moncton, N.B., and Miss Marjorie Laws, Lewisville, N.B., are co-chairmen of arrangements for the convention.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Honored—Mrs. D. Lowther, Vesuvius Bay, was honored by Salt Spring Island Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary when a special auxiliary spoon was presented to her at a recent meeting. Mrs. W. Jackson presided. Mrs. Lowther is leaving the island after having lived there 43 years. Mrs. E. Groff was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. H. Ashby and Mrs. A. L. Campbell were appointed delegates to the Pacific Command convention at Penticton in May.

Donations—Supply of cod liver oil was voted to be sent to the Victorian Order of Nurses at meeting of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter IODE. Easter gifts will be sent to chapter's adopted school at Allison Pass on the Hope-Princeton Highway. Mrs. A. Warner was welcomed as a new member. Plans were made for the 50th anniversary tea to be held May 4 in Loucheed's Banquet Hall to mark the chapter's formation in 1912 under the regency of Mrs. R. B. McMicking. Former chapter members will be among guests.

Annual Tea—Women's Guild of St. David's Church-by-the-Sea made final arrangements for an annual spring tea and sale to be held in the church hall on May 2, at a recent meeting held in the home of Mrs. A. E. Taylor. Proceeds from the tea will be used for the church decorating fund.

New Officers—Mrs. S. Rogers was elected president of St. Andrew's Cathedral Council, Catholic Women's League, at annual meeting held in the parish hall. Other officers are Mrs. D. Hartman, vice-president; Miss Doris Quilty, treasurer; Miss E. Mathieu, recording secretary and Mrs. E. Duncan, correspondence. Councillors are Mrs. R. Fletcher, Mrs. R. Kenny and Mrs. G. Trainor. Mrs. Hartman was appointed convener of membership tea to be held in the parish hall, in late May.

Anniversary—Members of Florence Nightingale Chapter, IODE, finalized plans for a 50th anniversary tea to be held in the nurses' residence of the Royal Jubilee Hospital in mid-May at recent meeting. Former members wishing to attend are asked to phone Mrs. C. W. Olive, EV 2-7750. Mrs. G. C. Baker, rgent, reported on recent provincial chapter meeting in Vancouver.

Does a Man's Ability Suddenly Vanish at 65?

Here is the sixth of 12 articles from the book, "A Brighter Later Life," by Howard Whitman, noted writer on human affairs and social problems.

By HOWARD WHITMAN

Why should an individual be forced to retire at 65? Is there something magical connected with the number "65"? Does a man suddenly change at his sixty-fifth birthday, wake up the next morning a different man from the man he was the day before, no longer able to work as he had worked previously, his abilities suddenly vanished and his will to work melted away?

Of course, nothing like that occurs.

Yet most employers cling to the number "65" as the automatic termination of an individual's work career. This has become an idea fixe without regard to its validity in either human or economic terms.

Why 65? No one knows precisely the origin of the magic number, but many suspect it is an antique which has come down to us from the nineteenth-century Germany of Chancellor Bismark.

During the 1880s, when Germany was racked by social and industrial unrest following the Franco-Prussian War, Bismark launched a series of social-welfare schemes including a government pension plan. He was bitterly opposed by economists and industrialists, who feared the staggering costs of the latter proposal would bring national bankruptcy.

Sizing up the situation, the wily chancellor quieted his opposition by setting the age at which government benefits would begin at 65. He thus "sold" the plan to his opponents by virtually vitiating it—since the average life expectancy at the time was 40!

But It Stuck

But the number which Bismark pulled out of the hat to implement his political-economic trick has stuck ever since. Life expectancy has increased 75 per cent, but the magic "65" remains intact.

Actually many workers today are fully productive well beyond age 65. Others, however, may be ready for retirement at 50. A new view of compulsory retirement at 65 is urgently needed, along with new thought on modes of retirement which fit the individual needs of human beings in the twentieth century rather than the political exigencies of Bismark's Germany in the 1880s.

Organized labor, though many of its actual practices encourage the mandatory "pensioning off" of workers in a rigid, inflexible way, nonetheless recognizes the problem. Kenneth J. Kelley, of the AFL-CIO Massachusetts State Labor Council, has asserted:

"It's unrealistic and untrue that all workers at 65 have lost their productivity and usefulness. Chronological age cannot be equated with physiological age. Some people are old at 45; others can still turn out a good day's work at 70."

Want to Work

The medical profession regards compulsory retirement at 65 as wholly unsound. Dr. Gunnar Gunderson, former president of the American Medical Association has stated: "Sixty-five candles on the cake don't signify that a man has overnight become eligible for nothing more than baby-sitting or drowsing, in the sun. Furthermore, we're not doing our older people any favors by this attitude. The vast majority of them want to work as much as they need to work. They not only want but need the chance of participating in the life of their communities. And unless we give them the opportunity, we're headed for trouble."

Anthropologist Margaret Mead has referred to the forced retirement of individuals who want to continue working as "a sentence of death . . . a sentence of no activity and no responsibility in their community."

It seems a violation of basic human liberty to deny a man the right to work when he has passed a certain birthday. Work is a fundamental component of life. "Work is given to men not only because the world needs it, but because the workman needs it," wrote Scottish philosopher Henry Drummond.

Easy Way Out

Why do we have compulsory retirement anyway? Former U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur S. Flemming called it "a lazy man's device for dealing with a difficult problem."

It is, actually, a form of regimentation which, like so many other forms of regimentation, is easy to administer but is also a total denial of human values. It dehumanizes people. It makes them all alike.

It also provides an easy way out for the employer who wants to get rid of what he calls the "dead wood." He doesn't recognize that he may easily kill the tree by pruning all of the live branches, too, in his effort to remove the dead ones.

"You see, this uniform retirement for everybody at 65 takes us off the hook," one employer explained. "If there's a certain fellow who has passed his usefulness, we don't have to single him out and give him the gate. We just wait patiently until he is 65 and he gets the gate automatically. Then he can't feel we've been unfair to him. It saves a lot of explaining."

Good Business

A more enlightened employer might do more good both for his company and for his workers by consulting the human equation before making hard and fast rules about retirement. With pre-retirement counseling, many a worker who has passed his period of productivity might well be helped toward retirement long before he ever reaches 65. And at the same time those who are productive long after a fixed retirement age can be usefully retained for the good of all concerned.

This is not only humanitarian—it is good business. In Yonkers, New York, the Refined Syrups and Sugars Company has done away with compulsory retirement altogether. It likes older workers. It specializes in them. Once it finds good men its maxim is "Keep 'em working."

Edward Vlahos, of the company's personnel department, explained, "During the Second World War, we were forced to use older workers, as were many other companies across the country. After the war, we decided not to let these workers go. Other companies automatically laid off their older workers at the war's end, but we really found that they were most satisfactory. Through our years of experience with older workers, we have found them to be just as effective and reliable as our younger men, if not more so."

For the company's recognition of the merits of older workers, Refined Syrups in 1958 was awarded the First Annual Bernard Baruch Senior Worker Award. During the presentation ceremonies, the then U.S. secretary of labor James P. Mitchell said:

"This award is in recognition of your company's outstanding record in both hiring and retaining on the job capable men and women who have passed the greater part of their youth but not the smallest part of their usefulness . . . I am certain that you have followed this policy because it pays off both in production and in better human relations with your employees."

When the ceremonies were over, the president of Refined Syrups, Frederic A. Davidson, was asked for his reaction to the award. He replied, "It's like getting a medal for being honest. We were pleased, of course, to win the award, but we can't see why our attitude toward hiring older workers should be at all unusual."

Next: Training for Retirement.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naras Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naras Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Advt.

Routine-Hating Labor Leade 'Serves to Heart's Content'

By AR KENT
Times Staff Reporter
VANCOUVER—The leader of Canada's biggest labor organization stands for re-election in Vancouver today, supremely unconcerned for the calendar—Friday the 13th.

"It doesn't bother me," said Claude Jodoin, 48-year-old president of Canadian Labor Congress, as it winds up its week-long fourth constitutional convention.

For 25 years—more than half his lifetime—he has been associated with the labor movement and looks forward to much more service yet, even if the CLC-favored New Democratic Party succeeds in winning the electorate and brings about complete social reform in Canada.

He has no political aspirations himself, he insists. His answer to the question was a flat:

"None at all... as long as the Canadian Labor Congress wants me, I'm at its disposal. It is a pretty big division, covering this whole country from one end to the other. I've never liked routine. (The presidency is) a most interesting function. I can serve to my heart's content."

"You can always learn something. I'll probably still be learning 30 seconds before I die," the hefty labor lord said.

280-Pounder

He looked a long way from death. His 280-pound, six-foot-one-inch frame exuded its usual dynamism, despite a day's gavel-wielding before an often restive body of nearly 1,200 noisy delegates in the vast Pacific National Exhibition Showman Building.

Monsieur Jodoin rules the floor with a velvet fist of mail. He brooks no nonsense, but enforces parliamentary behavior with a Gallic diplomacy.

When one delegate used a four-letter word in addressing the convention Thursday, the president's barrel voice, amply aided by a high-fidelity sound system, thundered rebuke in a most frightening way without resorting to similar language.

Busy Leader

He wasn't fooling either, when he said he likes action. Mr. Jodoin is a difficult person to pin down long enough to answer questions.

In fact, he was interviewed during a 15-minute period between the end of the day's sitting and a television interview.

Following that, he had to fit in a dinner, a reception and a convention ball, sponsored by Vancouver and District Labor Council.

What about the future of the CLC, when it realizes its objectives of full employment, full organization and the ideal in social and labor legislation? Will there still be new horizons to conquer?

"There's no perfection in this world," he said. "There will always be the necessity for improvements... Even under an NDP government," he added with prompting, countering with a question of his own:

"When will free trade unions be established in all countries? Eventually they will exist even in Moscow, he predicted."

Asked if the New Democratic Party would realize its suggested $1,000,000 goal for campaign funds in the upcoming federal election, Mr. Jodoin replied:

"I don't know what the goal is. But it's up to the individual organizations." The main reason for a fund, he said, is "Operation Freedom," a Chamber of Commerce national campaign aimed at Socialism and Communism, which it categorizes together, and blames for killing incentives and the profit-making system.

This view was supported by NDP national leader Tommy Douglas in an address to the convention earlier in the day.

Mr. Jodoin said the chambers want to "deny the people the right to participate in public affairs, while they have a complete political program themselves.

Who's Argue?

"We don't deny them this right," he said, "but the labor movement does not want the chambers to be peeved if labor has a political voice."

What did he think about Hazen Argue—the man who quit the NDP, claiming it was being dominated by labor bosses—and what about his allegations?

"Who's he?" the CLC president said.

"And which allegations? He's popped up with a couple. As far as the affiliated unions are concerned, there is no intention of controlling the New Democratic Party. The New Democratic Party seems to have an inside track..."

He said any recommendations made by the congress go to all parties in Canadian politics.

Do you think there is an ultimate place in the political arena for the congress, participating directly?

"No. It is up to the affiliated organizations themselves. You don't tell people in Canada. You try to convince them." It was the same with financial support—purely voluntary.

What was the real impasse in the IWA-Carpenters' dispute?

(This was the biggest issue of the convention, one put off from day to day by the executive and culminating with the walkout of carpenters from the convention Wednesday night. They didn't return to debate the matter with the IWA Thursday, and an executive-endorsed recommendation was approved by the convention after a mere hour's comment and negligible opposition.)

"The acceptance of authority to be given by congress to hold a vote after a year's moratorium (of the dispute)," Mr. Jodoin said to the question.

"Any affiliate of congress would resist being decertified for special legislation."

What is the most significant thing to come out of the convention?

Planning Vital

"There is such a variety it is difficult to pin down." The president mentioned resolutions in both the national and international fields, but tagged the proposed social and economic advisory council for Canada as being important.

Planning will solve the economic problems of Canada. "That is of paramount importance to Canada," he said.

In view of the fact you may not be president tomorrow, what are your comments on your terms of office?

"I will remain in the labor movement if I can," Mr. Jodoin said. But looking back he admitted, "We have certain problems. I hope we will find a way to solve them internally and have co-operation between all affiliated organizations."

"I am always an optimist and believe problems can be solved with a good will on both sides."

And the high spot of his career, which started in 1932, was a "pick and shovel" project on a government relief project?

"As far as I'm concerned, the highest moment was the merger convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress (forming the CLC in 1956)."

On Claude Jodoin it still looks good.

BY ANTI-NAZI?

Zeppelin Sabotaged, Book Says

NEW YORK (AP)—A new book contends the German zeppelin Hindenburg was sabotaged—possibly by a crew member linked with a mystery woman of the Nazi resistance movement.

This disputes a commerce department inquiry board's finding that the disaster probably arose from accidental ignition of the hydrogen that gave the huge, cigar-shaped craft its lifting force.

The 803-foot-long airship fell in flames May 6, 1937, with a loss of 36 lives in one of history's most spectacular air tragedies just as she was about to moor at Lakehurst, N.J.

A. A. Hoehling, author of the book "Who Destroyed the Hindenburg?" argues that a small dry cell battery found in the wreckage could be a key to the disaster.

It was of a type prohibited on board as a precaution against sparks.

Hoehling's theory is that the fire was touched off deliberately by use of a hidden machine consisting of a flashlight attached to the battery with a pocket watch as a timing device.

The book suggests the device was intended to set the fire after the airship had been moored but that it went off prematurely.

The crew member at whom Hoehling points the finger of suspicion died in the crash.

Utter Confusion Clouds Miss Canada Pageant

TORONTO (CP)—The way things are going, the next thing will be a committee of beautiful girls running a contest to decide who will crown Miss Canada.

After Thursday's snowballing developments, it is anyone's guess who will run the annual contest.

Robert Inch, lawyer for Miss Canada Pageant Limited in Hamilton, said his clients have always put on the beauty queen show and assumed things would be the same this year.

Earlier, the Toronto firm of Markey-Brooks Productions Limited announced it would be handling the pageant.

Walter Pasko, president of Markey-Brooks, said his company acquired the rights from S. Radcliffe Weaver, who holds Miss Canada Pageant Limited stock.

Then an official of PR-M Consultants Limited, a public relations firm also based in Toronto, said Mr. Weaver had no authority to hand over the rights to Pasko's company without bringing the matter before a meeting of Miss Canada Pageant Limited directors.

NEWS TO HIM

Mr. Inch said he had never heard of Mr. Pasko and knew nothing of the Markey-Brooks move.

"Miss Canada Pageant Limited have always put on the show and I should think they would be putting it on this year," Mr. Inch said.

The PR-M spokesman said his firm was called in by Miss Canada Pageant Limited to plan the contest following a re-vamping of the organization last September. He said PR-M was told the pageant would be staged on a non-profit basis and that Mr. Weaver would no longer be in charge.

The public relations firm later learned Mr. Weaver retained 4,400 shares in the reorganized outfit, compared with 4,411 for all the other directors, the spokesman said, and Mr. Weaver himself was still making statements and acting on behalf of the company.

The show-production franchise is still registered with the Miss America Organization under Mr. Weaver's name.

This controversy got up steam after the resignation Tuesday of pageant directors Fred Hooper and Syd Matthews of Toronto. They quit because the plan to operate on a non-profit basis had not come off.

Then Miss Canada herself said she wanted out.

Nina Holden, 19, of Victoria, who took over the crown last year after another row, said here she was "fed up" and threatened to pack her bags. She pinned her unhappiness on the lack of organization among the pageant's promoters.

However, Miss Holden made an about-turn Thursday and withdrew the abdication threat when Markey-Brooks appeared on the scene.

The five-foot-five beauty inherited the crown in September when Connie-Gail Feller of Ottawa was dethroned for "not living up to commitments."

A big fuss erupted at that time about how the contest was run.

Mr. Pasko Thursday unveiled a list of plans his company was working on to make the pageant a bigger and better thing. The plans were news to Mr. Inch.

Mr. Pasko said everything will be smoothed over for Miss Holden. Markey-Brooks promised to send her home to relax for $50 a week for two months while the company works out a program.

"I know it's going to work out—they have all been so nice," Miss Holden said.

Nfl'd Loggers' Free Vote May Heal CLC Split

By ROBERT RICE

VANCOUVER (CP)—The national convention of the Canadian Labor Congress Thursday urged the 64,600-member Carpenters Brotherhood to allow Newfoundland loggers to pick their own union—the Carpenters or the International Woodworkers of America.

This step—a "properly conducted vote" among the loggers of the island province—is the way of repentance for the Carpenters Brotherhood after being found guilty of violating CLC policy but acquitted of raiding the IWA jurisdiction.

The dual verdict was handed down by a special vice-president committee of the CLC, accepted by the executive council and then overwhelmingly endorsed by the congress convention itself.

About 25 delegates among 1,200 unionists voted against the verdict.

But no sentence was pronounced. Even the accuser—the 34,500-member IWA—made no move to

Lead in Smash Hit For Winnipeg Actor

LONDON (CP) — Robert Jeffrey, 25-year-old Winnipeg actor and singer, today left the London company of HMS Pinafore to take over the lead in a British touring presentation of West Side Story.

He will join the company in Göteborg, Sweden, to commence rehearsals and then give his first performance in Oslo. From there the company will make a return two-week visit to Copenhagen before going to Stockholm for four weeks.

Jeffrey will replace American David Holliday as Tony, the modern-day Romeo in the musical set in New York's west side.

In Sir Tyrone Guthrie's production of HMS Pinafore, which Jeffrey joined in Stratford, Ont., he was in the chorus.

MUSIC FESTIVAL GRAND CONCERT

Medallion Contest Tonight

By AUDREY JOHNSON
A fine performance of the Schumann A Minor Piano Concerto by Sidney Bulman-Fleming on Thursday night assured the Greater Victoria Music Festival of a City of Victoria Medallion contest for tonight's final grand concert.

Up to Thursday, only Portland's Irene Lapin had qualified for the piano championship in which there must be a competition for the trophy to be awarded.

Aside from the two-way
Medallion contest tonight,
there may be five singers eligible for the Rose Bowl vocal championship. Formerly limited to three contestants to be chosen by the adjudicator.

amended rules permit winners of all Grade A solo classes to be eligible providing they have obtained a mark of 85 per cent or more.

ALL-WINNERS
Balance of the program will consist of performances by award-winning singers and pianists from the week's sessions, selected by adjudicators
Angus Morrison and Sidney Bryans.

This concert will be held at Central Junior High School at 8.

Two lieder classes heard
Thursday were quite outstanding for the quality of singing and piano performance, both of which were adjudicated as is customary.

The junior section, open to competitors 15 to 21 years, was won by Rino Elverhoy, tenor, with Gail Wall as his piano partner. This team won the Norma Douglas Scholarship of $50.

In second place were Barbara Montgomery and Timothy Vernon.

Terry French with Lorraine Travis at the piano, won the open lieder class.

As sole entrant in a new class open to previous winners of the Rose Bowl, Sally Seymour received praise for her phrasing and pianissimo and a mark of 87.

The senior concert group class for pianists was topped by David Palmer who also won the Registered Music Teacher's Award. Cheryl Borris who was second in this class, won the senior concerto but the Henry Birks award for concerto classes went to Sydney Bulman-Fleming for his high mark of 88.

Other bursaries and awards made so far: Victoria Musical Art Society bursary for string classes, John Gomez; Mrs. R.
H. Pooley Memorial Awards,
Daniel Costain, Ian Franklin,
Bette Cosar.

D. Gillespie Award: Madeleine Groos; Western Music

Basic Errors Impair Plays At Drama Festival Opening

Opening night plays of the 14th Southern Vancouver Island Drama Festival were considered enjoyable by adjudicator Miss Ann Mossman of Yellow Point, despite some elemental errors.

The two one-act plays presented before a sparse audience at Oak Bay Junior High School Thursday night were "Harlequinade," by Terrence Rattigan, and "Shadow of the Past," by Marjorie Halford.

The former was acted by St.
Luke's Players of Victoria, the latter by Esquimalt's Old Vic Players.

Rattigan's play was "very well directed," according to Miss Mossman.

She singled out Muriel
(Betty Jean Pierre) and Tom (Tony Collis) as outstanding characters.

"Muriel," she said, "was extremely good, extremely human and always maintained her character," while Tom—her husband—was "very likeable."

TIMING OFF
However, Miss Mossman said the timing of the play could have been better.

NATIONAL EXHIBIT

Nature Photos Wanted

Formation of a national collection of nature photographs in Ottawa was welcomed here today by officials of photographic societies and Victoria Natural History Society.

Northern Affairs Minister Dinsdale invited professional and amateur photographers across Canada to submit pictures of wild animals, birds and vegetation to his department.

"This is an excellent thing—it will encourage wild life studies by amateurs and professionals," said George N. Y.
Simpson, chairman of the Victoria zone, Professional Photographers' Association of British Columbia.

"It will stimulate interest in nature generally," said Freeman King, president of Victoria Natural History Society.
Deadlines for entries is Sept.
30 when a committee of experts in Ottawa will select photographs for the national collection. Scrolls will be presented to successful entrants and the collection will be put on display at the national museum.

"I have known this play a very long time and I have always found it needs a tremendous amount of doing," she said. "Rattigan leaves a tremendous amount up to the director—it was very well directed."

Action of the play takes place on the stage of a theatre in a Midland town in England in spring. Director was Harry Lutley.

Miss Mossman described "Shadow of the Past," as very brief, even for a one-act play.

"You have to establish the atmosphere from the very beginning and rely on stage lighting and sound effects,"

BAD START

But she hinted these technicalities were not as good as they might have been.

"The play got off to a very bad start," she said. "It took a couple of minutes to get it going. Greater care should be taken with the house lights; opening of the curtains and making sure the cast is ready."

She remarked the poor opening had lost a chance to set the version necessary to carry the play through.

5 TO 8-YEAR TERMS FOR 22 FREEDOMITES

NELSON (CP)—Twenty-two Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were sentenced to terms ranging from five to eight years today on charges of bombing, arson or attempted arson.

They were found guilty by juries at a special Assize here during the last three weeks.

Before passing sentence Mr. Justice H. W. MacInnes called on the men to become useful and productive, instead of destructive, citizens.

He said that during their trials some of the accused asked him to help solve the Doukhobor problem. He replied: "You continually speak of the Doukhobor problem. Some of you have even asked me to assist in the solution of your problem. I am by no means clear as to what your problem actually is, if one in fact actually exists."

Ottawa Now Sure Date Is June 18

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today said he would announce early next week his plans for dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

Diefenbaker, in another election indicator, also sent Opposition leader Lester B. Pearson a note inviting the Liberal chief to meet him this afternoon.

The Prime Minister's purpose presumably was to show Pearson the courtesy of letting him in on dissolution plans in advance.

June 18 is the expected date of the election, with dissolution coming any time between Monday and Wednesday.

Diefenbaker made his statement to the Commons after Vancouver East MP Harold Winch of the New Democratic Party pleaded for an indication so members representing areas 1,000 to 3,000 miles away from Ottawa could make travel plans.

Winch said these MPs should be given such information so they would know whether to make travel plans for an Easter recess, with Parliament resuming, or for dissolution and an election.

"I think I will be in a position early in the week to make a full statement on this question," the Prime Minister said, "so the honorable members will be able to do what the member suggests they do."

"I will answer his question in the fullest detail."

Tory Members Get Jump in Planning

Meantime, government MPs Thursday night began open preparations for a June 18 federal election.

They gathered in an extraordinary election strategy session in the Commons' railway committee room and made no effort to conceal their preparations.

The meeting was closed to the press but when it ended MPs emerged smiling and many of them confidently asserted that June 18 would be the day.

They would not be quoted by name about matters dealt with because the meeting, which lasted 75 minutes, was supposed to be a Tory caucus and MPs are forbidden by party discipline to disclose caucus discussions.

Main speaker at the meeting, attended by more than 120 Progressive Conservative MPs, was Allister Grosart, national director of the Tory party.

He instructed them in electioneering tactics, with special emphasis on how to make the most of publicity opportunities, through newspapers, radio and TV, mail circulars and general advertising.

Also in attendance was Senator Gunnar Thorvaldson of Winnipeg, President of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

When the meeting began reports were circulating that many of the government MPs had demanded it so they could put pressure on Prime Minister Diefenbaker for a clear declaration of when he intended to go to the people.

But MPs questioned about this said it was not accurate.

Magazine Curb Set for January 1

OTTAWA (CP)—The government proposes to prohibit the importation of special Canadian editions of foreign magazines starting Jan. 1, 1963.

Revenue Minister Nowlan gave notice today in the Commons of a resolution leading to introduction of an amendment to the customs tariff carrying out the government's undertaking to implement part of the royal commission on publications recommendations.

The amendment would empower the cabinet to pass orders-in-council declaring what special editions of foreign magazines would be affected.

A second resolution said the income tax Act dequalifying advertisers from any deduction from taxable income starting in 1963 for advertisements placed in non-Canadian periodicals and directed to the Canadian market.

The second resolution added that deductions would be allowed "in part"—without specifying the amount—for advertisements placed in magazines edited in Canada but published under licence by a foreign publisher.

LISTS EXCEPTIONS

Periodicals with a circulation of less than 5,000 copies an issue and periodicals devoted to medical or religious subjects would be exempt from the new law if they were being printed, published and edited in Canada for one year prior to Jan. 22, 1962.

SUPERMARKET 'COME ON'

Bill of Rights Hits 'Best Seller' List

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bill of Rights is making money for the federal treasury, the Commons was told today.

"It's a best-seller," Finance Minister Fleming said.

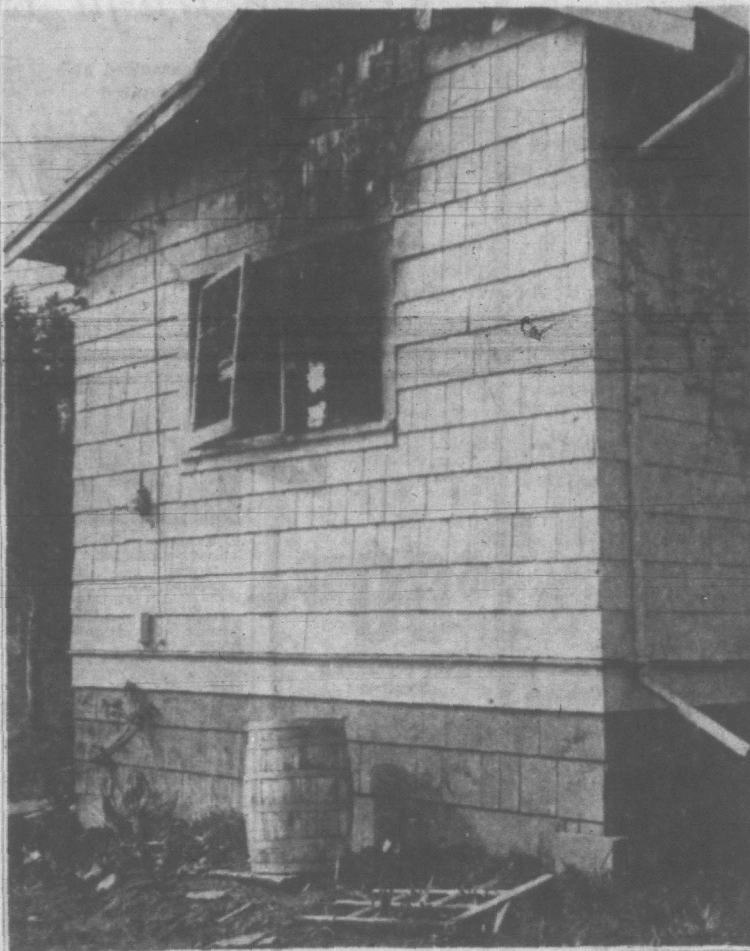

It costs 39 cents to produce and is selling for $1. Of 20,000 copies printed, 14,500 had been sold and more orders were coming in.

Mr. Fleming was replying to a charge Thursday night by John R. Matheson (L-Leeds) that distribution of the Bill of Rights in the form of a large illuminated document with gold scrollwork, fancy print and Prime Minister Diefenbaker's signature was "misuse of public funds."

Mr. Matheson said it should be "put down as part of a Progressive Conservative expense account."

Mr. Fleming, during today's debate on Queen's Printer expenditures, said Mr. Matheson had "splattered all over the record some of the most misleading statements" ever heard in the Commons.

Behind these blackened windows a baby boy burned to death today as his frantic father stood on the barrel and tried vainly to climb through the flames to his son. Three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Lodewyk Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, were pulled to safety through the window although one is in just fair condition. Father, clad only in pair of trousers, trod through hot glass shards in rescue attempt.

Bennett Asks Columbia OK Before Election

Premier Bennett has sent a telegram to Ottawa calling for ratification of the Columbia River Treaty before Parliament is dissolved for a federal election.

Mr. Bennett said at a brief press conference today that he sent the wire to Finance Minister Donald Fleming Thursday.

He also said he has asked the new B.C. Hydro and Power Authority to prepare plans for calling tenders on the three Columbia dams involved in the treaty.

START BY SUMMER

Mr. Bennett said this was aimed at starting construction on the project this summer.

Asked if it meant B.C. will go ahead and start work even if Ottawa doesn't ratify the treaty, Mr. Bennett only replied "I wouldn't say that."

Asked if B.C. would wait until the treaty is ratified before starting work, he replied, "I wouldn't say that either."

He said his telegram was to make it clear to the federal government that B.C. "is anxious" to get cracking.

NEW BOND ISSUE

The premier also said there may be a new bond issue floated for this B.C. Hydro Authority.

The money is expected to be for financing the Peace River power project, already under way.

Mr. Bennett said today that

(See Page 7)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon today ordered defence contractors and their suppliers to shift steel purchases to those American companies which have not raised prices.

The action was announced by Defence Secretary McNamara.

In a statement and brief press conference, McNamara also said:

1. If the steel price increase "fans out" across the United States economy, national defence costs could rise $1,000,000,000 or more a year.
2. The impact of increased costs could affect the dollar balance abroad and "we cannot expect to maintain our prices overseas if our trade balance does not improve."
3. At the direction of President Kennedy, the Pentagon is examining possible substitutes for steel.

McNamara said that iron and steel prices have increased 90 per cent since 1947, while non-ferrous metals prices have increased only 40 per cent.

Firm Refuses To Go Along With Hike

CHICAGO (AP)—The Inland Steel Company broke the chain of price increases by American steel firms today by announcing it will not make any changes in prices at this time.

The company, in an action which may cause price-boosting firms to reconsider, issued this statement:

"Inland Steel Co. today announced that it will not make any adjustments in existing prices of its steel mill products at this time.

"The company has long recognized the need for improvement in steel industry profits in relation to capital invested. It believes this condition, which does exist today, will have to be corrected.

"Nevertheless, in full recognition of the national interest and competitive factors, the company feels that it is untimely to make any upward adjustments."

'Very Good' Says Kennedy

Mr. Bennett reiterated earlier threats to call a provincial policy is "obstructed."

"If this power policy is blocked anywhere—in Ottawa, or anywhere—I'll seek a mandate," he promised.

But he indicated he did not expect any election this year.

Reporters asked when it would be.

"In 1965, or 1964—or maybe 1963," was his reply.

Nine-Year-Old's Condition 'Fair'

A nine-month-old boy was burned to death early today as his frantic father fought to reach him through flames that ravaged their Helmcken Road home in View Royal.

Dead is Clemens Wertheim-Aymes, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lodewyk Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, opposite View Royal Elementary School.

SEVERE BURNS

A daughter, Gilda, 9, is in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with second degree burns to the arms and head.

Safe are the parents and two other children, Meta, 10, and Clary, 6.

The fire started about 3.30 a.m. and burned out the interior in short order.

The home is uninhabitable and the family is staying with friends in Metehosin.

JUMPED OUT

It is understood Mrs. Wertheim-Aymes awoke first at the smell of smoke and awakened her husband. She jumped out of the bedroom window and ran around the house to the children's bedroom window.

Her husband followed. They put a barrel beside the wall, smashed the window and helped the children out.

First out was Meta, followed by Gilda and Clary.

Mr. Wertheim-Aymes tried to force his way through the window to get little Clemens, who was in a crib in the middle of the room, but roaring flames beat him back.

At this point members of the View Royal volunteer fire department arrived and fireman Frank Andrews, 236 Stornmont, forced his way in.

By the time he reached the baby and handed him out, flames and smoke had wrought their grim toll and the child was dead.

SAW SON DIE

Standing outside the house later in the morning Mr. Wertheim-Aymes said he "would rather not talk about it."

"I saw my own son burned while I was unable to save him," he said, "and that is a terrible experience."

It is understood the fire started at or near an oil range and quickly spread through the house.

Nikita Rejects Speedy Test Ban

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today rebuffed an American-British plea to join in speeding a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests, a qualified diplomat reported.

The Soviet premier, in a long reply to Prime Minister Macmillan, described the Western move as propaganda, the informant said.

President Kennedy and Macmillan last Tuesday published terms of a request that Russia allow international inspectors to check any suspicious tremors. Soviet agreement, they said, would clear the way for an early test-ban treaty, but Soviet refusal would mean the American series of atmospheric forward" later this month, as planned.

Macmillan Tuesday sent a terse covering letter stressing to Khrushchev that the "object of verification (of suspicious explosions) is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it."

Khrushchev today, according to the source, dwelt at length on this question of East-West suspicion and distrust. The Soviet leader was said to have argued that he conceded the right of the West to distrust Russian good faith. He said he assumed he had the same right to distrust Western intentions. Yet, he argued, these suspicions have not led the Soviet Union to submit excessive and rigid demands for safeguards in a

Centennial Flashback...

Keenan's Fashion Saloon held a gala opening, complete with free lunch and drinks on the house.

The fastenings of a scaffolding in front of Yates' new brick building, upon which several bricklayers were at work, gave way and fell to the ground. The workmen escaped injury by clinging to an iron bar which had been driven into the wall.

An accumulation of stagnant water and decaying vegetable matter at the corner of Troughton Alley and Government Street caused a most annoying smell.

Hon. Allen Francis, the newly-appointed U.S. consul, has taken the room previously occupied as the harbor master's office, over St. Outs wharf.

Federal gov'mint stand now seems t' be: We knew th' Columbia agreement wasn't any good, so we signed it.

CAR'S IN, TIDE'S OUT

Unplanned car wash in wee sma' hours today fortunately took place at low tide, as 1939 sedan nearly disappeared in waters at foot of James

Bay Anglers' launching ramp; near VMD on Dallas Road. How car got there is mystery to city police, and also to car's owner. (Times Photo.)

Poles Down By End Of Year

Downtown power poles and overhead wiring are coming down, although the pace may appear slow.

A B.C. Electric spokesman today said almost 10 per cent of the poles have been removed from the 30-block downtown core where underground wiring was installed over the last three years.

"The poles will be all down by the end of the year," the official said.

No overnight vanishing of poles and wiring is possible because all the downtown buildings have to be connected to the new underground wiring first.

About 46 per cent of the buildings have hooked up already but it will take most of the summer to connect the bulk of the remainder.

The poles have to be removed on a step-by-step basis in scattered locations because just one unconnected building in a block can hold up removal of the poles in that area.

Elderly Woman Dies After Street Mishap

An elderly woman became Greater Victoria's third 1962 traffic fatality when she died early this morning after being in collision with a car Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ethel Crossley, 3225 Alder, succumbed to multiple injuries in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 1 a.m. today.

Driver of the car involved was reportedly Mabel Harvey, 1749 Newton, and the accident occurred opposite the Veteran's Hospital on Richmond Rd. at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Crossley was 70. Police said the woman apparently was crossing Richmond from the west side. The car was southbound.

The accident occurred about 70 feet from the corner of the Bay and Richmond covered bus stop.

Mrs. Crossley was on her way home from visiting her husband, a patient since March 17 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Police today asked the witnesses who might have been in the bus stop at the time of the accident. The police traffic office telephone is EV 4-4114.

A neighbor described the Crossleys as a quiet, retired couple who had lived on Alder for almost three years.

DAILY VISIT

Mrs. Crossley visited her husband each afternoon at the hospital and came home early in the evening, the neighbor said.

The couple evidently have only one relative, a daughter in Edmonton.

The accident was reported to police by C. Norton Welch, 867 Goldstream, a teacher at Central Junior High School.

Mrs. Crossley was rushed to Jubilee Hospital by a Saanich fire department ambulance which was nearby.

The ambulance had been called to Lansdowne and Richmond on a resuscitator call but on arrival was not needed.

It was subsequently relayed to Richmond and Bay to pick up the injured woman.

She had injuries to her head and in addition a broken left leg and right arm.

It is believed a coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday.

PROUDLY DISPLAYING the flag of the United Nations won by the local branch of the UN Association are former mayor Percy Scurrell and association president Dr. Hartley Sargent. The flag was awarded to the Victoria branch for its having increased its membership in 1961 more than any other branch in Canada. It exceeded its quota by more than seven and a half times to bring membership up to a record 250. This week the association is launching a campaign for more members and funds. Mr. Scurrell has consented to be chairman of the drive which will last into May.

'TRADEMARK' PREPARATION STARTS SOON

Preparation of Victoria's trademark—flower baskets—will begin in about a week's time, city parks administrator W. H. Warren said today.

A total of 625 baskets will be made up for centennial year, 125 more than in the past.

They will be hung on cluster light standards during the first week of June.

$1.2 Million Sewer Plan For Saanich

Plans for a new sewer scheme expected to cost at least $1,200,000 were revealed today by Saanich municipal engineer Neville Life.

The sewer area comprises the Gorge-Marigold-Whiteside-Tillium-Sedger and Biscoe districts; the Swan Lake district to Christmas Hill and the Glanford Garden area.

SUBMITTED MONDAY

The project has the backing of the public works committee and will be submitted to council Monday for approval.

It is larger than the Shelbourne-Gordon Head system which is nearing completion.

"With the exception of a few small areas this project will complete the sewerage of the urban area of the municipality," said Mr. Life.

SERVE 7,000

He added that the proposed system will serve a population of about 7,000.

Mr. Life said treatment plants will be installed to take care of sewage.

"The plants will be the best available in order to ensure that there is no contamination of the Gorge water," he said. Sewage disposal in this area is at present a serious problem, Mr. Life said.

Due to the widespread use of septic tanks the soil is unable to take the effluent.

Smaller, Smaller, Smaller

Plans for the new airport terminal at Patricia Bay envision a building only slightly larger than the present one.

This became apparent today after Esquimalt - Saanich MP George Chatterton revealed that the plans have been cut back again by 6,000 square feet of floor space.

This would provide a total of 23,000 square feet in the proposed new building, he said. George Hees, then transport minister, announced in 1958 that the new terminal building would be a two-storey building 260 by 775 feet providing a total of 39,000 square feet.

He said that would be about double the size of the existing building.

DROPPED

In addition, the plans included a 100 by 50-foot separate customs and immigration building joined by a covered walkway to the terminal. This apparently was dropped last August when Mr. Chatterton said plans still called for a 260 by 275-foot building but did not mention the separate customs and immigration centre.

The original announcement by Ottawa five years ago said the terminal would be 100 by 400 feet in size.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1962—PAGE 19

MONTE ROBERTS

Whatever happens to any other crusade (don't look now, but what is happening?), I am convinced that the Shh! Silent Centennial crusade was a successfully losing effort, in the best tradition.

There is every indication the word is getting abroad that Victoria is 100 years old this year.

Part of the blame for the failure of the Silent Centennial can be laid to the door of the centennial committee itself, which seems bound and determined to remove the veil of silence from the centenary.

The latest effort of the committee is a bright little folder inviting one and all to visit Victoria during its birthday year.

It is an attractive job, light-heartedly illustrated, and indicating that great things are in view, including such spectacular events as centennial log-rolling contests (in this capital city there are some wondrous log-rollers) and centennial flower-watching exhibitions.

But on the back page is a compendium of information which drew me up short and set me to shaking with fear.

The back page is devoted to a map of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland showing the various means of transportation by which persons may reach this Island.

And this is the frightening part—leave this Island.

I have, of course, been vaguely aware that the transportation picture has been changing.

But a map showing all the routes at once is a chilling sight . . . ferries between Departure Bay and Horseshoe Bay, Nanaimo and Vancouver, Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen, Sidney and Anacortes, Victoria and Port Angeles, Victoria and Seattle.

And as if that isn't enough, airline connections between Patricia Bay, Seattle, and Vancouver.

I realize that most of the residents of Vancouver Island are sane enough to resist the siren call of all these means of transport, and to stay right here where they belong.

But there is always that group of less stable folk who have occasionally thought of going to, say, Vancouver.

With all these routes between which to choose, it is becoming all too easy to yield to temptation.

School Tax Rates Lower This Year

Greater Victoria ratepayers will pay a slightly lower school mill rate this year but rural Saanich school district homeowners will win substantial relief, Education Minister Leslie Peterson announced today.

The Saanich district school levy will drop from 19.6 mills last year to 17.92 this year. Greater Victoria district's mill rate will be shaved from 19.16 last year to 19.06.

The government grant towards higher costs will increase from $3,403,586 in 1961 to $3,808,716 this year.

He released the figures at a press conference in which he portrayed a province-wide picture of higher government grants to school districts and lower mill rates for taxpayers.

BASIC REDUCTION

The basic provincial mill rate for operating expenses is set at 15.10—a reduction of .40 mills from 1961.

The Greater Victoria mill rate of 19.06 will include the basic 15.10 levy charged in all districts, 1.65 mills for excess operating costs which the government will not share, 2.54 mills for debt and capital expenditure and a credit of .23 mills reduction for surplus funds unused from last year's grant.

Mr. Peterson said 55 of the 82 school districts are getting bigger grants than last year. None is getting less.

Fifty-nine of the districts have cut their mill rates.

"School boards are to be commended for their efforts in holding the cost level for 1961 and 1962 to nominal increases, and they merit the appreciation of both provincial governments and the local taxpayers," he said.

Mr. Peterson said mill rates are up in 23 districts this year. "I trust during the year boards of these districts will seriously study their costs local school mill rates for 1963," he said.

$5.52 PER CENT

Total operating expense in all schools this year is $111,832,835, of which the government is paying $58,739,175, or 52.52 per cent.

The rest must be raised by the basic 15.10 mill levy plus whatever non-shareable extras each district may want.

Mr. Peterson said the operating costs which the government pays are based on a lump sum grant of $2,560 per approved teacher.

This method allows local districts to spend their money as they wish.

It also carries the proviso that no district shall get less tax than it did last year.

This has averted a big drop in the grant to Vancouver, which feared it would lose $1,000,000 under the new formula.

GETTING MORE

Vancouver actually is getting $145,000 more than it would have under last year's formula, said Mr. Peterson.

The operating grant to Saanich School District is $590,667, and its mill rate is cut from 19.60 last year to 17.92.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

James Russell, 2605 Forbes, no driver's licence, $15.

Francis King, 1140 Government, careless driving, $35, and failing to remain, $75 and licence suspended.

Mary Johns, 3145 Alder, inadequate brakes, $20.

Michael White, 105 Island Highway, $20, park $20.

Clarence Day, 4299 Gordon Head, no red flag on load, $10.

Bigger VLA Loans Soon Available

Hundreds of homeowners and farmers on Vancouver Island soon will have a chance to get bigger Veterans' Land Act loans.

Esquimalt - Saanich M.P. George Chatterton said today bigger loans available under amendments to the Federal VLA will be given to present VLA landowners.

The amendments are now before the Senate awaiting third and final reading expected Monday night, with royal assent later in the week.

TO $12,000

The amendments boost maximum loans for small holdings and city lot homes from $10,000 to $12,000.

Down payment for a small holdings loan will be $1,800 instead of $1,600 and for a city home $1,000 instead of $800.

The amendments also create a new class of eligible landowners known as the small family farm unit. Up to now only full time, large scale farmers could get loans under VLA. The new class will also be able to get a $12,000 loan.

"This will affect a great many people on Vancouver Island, particularly in the Saanich peninsula," said Mr. Chatterton.

Any small farm—such as a berry farm or market garden—will be eligible.

It need not be a full-time job for its owners.

All the new provisions in the VLA will be retroactive, so that present holders of VLA loans can apply for the new maximums, said Mr. Chatterton.

For example the holder of a $10,000 loan could get another $2,000 if he puts up $1,200 of his own money.

"This is the first time this principle has been adopted," said Mr. Chatterton.

$63,416 Bid Lowest of Six On TB Building

A bid of $63,416 was lowest of six tenders opened today for a new tuberculosis building at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Dillabough & Luney of Victoria entered the lowest figure among the bids that ranged to a top of $66,894.

The B.C. Tuberculosis Society board of directors is studying the tenders before awarding a contract.

The building will house modern facilities for a chest clinic and the headquarters for the Christmas Seal committee.

Two Park Plans For Colwood Land

A total of 140 acres of choice but contentious Colwood property, the Department of National Defence land on the Island Highway, has two chances of becoming a park.

George Chatterton, Esquimalt-Saanich M.P., said here today he has recommended to the federal government that the land, site of the former Colwood race track, be retained for park development in connection with the 40 acres at historic Fort Rodd Hill, which already has been approved as a park and will be opened this year.

The other alternative comes Chamber of Commerce, which has applied for a three-year lease on the property for use as a public park and exhibition grounds. The chamber applied for the lease when the B.C. Agricultural Association was forced to let its lease lapse a month ago for non-payment of rent.

Reid MacKell, chamber president, said the national park proposal would halt the chamber's plans, which as yet are not complete.

"But we think we have as good a chance as anyone of getting the lease, and understand we'll be able to renew it once we get it," he said.

The property now is under the jurisdiction of the national defence department which, Mr. Chatterton said, had planned to turn it over to Crown Assets Disposal Corporation.

GREAT MISTAKE

"But I thought this would be a great mistake in view of plans to develop the old fort property and protested the proposed sale," he said, while outlining arrangements for the Fort Rodd Hill site.

The minister agreed not to sell the land, he said.

The Esquimalt - Saanich member envisaged the incorporation of the Colwood property with Fort Rodd Hill, which would provide a total of 180 acres of land for development into a national park.

He said other small parcels of land owned by the department of national defence could also be added.

He said a Fort superintendent would be appointed in the near future to prepare the property for public use.

He said money to pay for a custodian is included in this year's estimates as well as $25,000 to clean up the property and make it acceptable for public use.

"We won't be able to do too much with the property this year," he said, "but it will be opened to the public."

CONTRACT OUT

He is in favor of the government contracting the planning of Fort Rodd Hill to the Capital Region Planning Board.

"The fort's restoration and planning should be left to people in this area," he said.

"They know the history of the district and what should be done to restore the property."

ASK THE TIMES

Q-I have noticed a boulder near the sunken rose garden of the Parliament Buildings with a large ring bolt attached to it. Could you please tell me where this came from? H.A.

A. This is an old ship's mooring ring that was dredged out of Victoria's Harbor some twenty years ago.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Mrs. Jack Harvey, the former Georgia Hunt, is asked to call Victoria city police regarding an urgent family matter.

The appeal has originated with a sister of Mrs. Harvey's who is presently ill in a Montreal rest home.

It is believed Mrs. Harvey moved to this city from Calgary.

A meeting of the Tillium-Hampton PTA will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Tillium School.

VICTORY FOR KENNEDY

Big U.S. Steel Rescinds Boost

NEW YORK (UPI)—Giant U.S. Steel announced today it was backing down on its $6 per ton price hike.

The announcement it was rescinding the price hike came just 24 hours after chairman Roger Blough defended the hike in the face of stiff Kennedy administration opposition.

(See Other Stories, Page 7)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The steel industry's plan for $6 a ton price increases began to crack today in the face of intensive pressure from President Kennedy and his own members.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second biggest steel producer, reported that it was rescinding its price increase effective immediately.

The company was among the first to join the lead of U.S. Steel Corp. when the price increases were announced Tuesday night.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, informed of the news, slammed his hand on a door frame of his office and said, "I'm very pleased. They'll all have to go back."

Bethlehem's move came after a day of intensive developments in the Capitol and the steel industry. It followed decisions by Inland Steel Co. and Kaiser Steel not to raise prices at this time.

In addition, the administration made its first direct move against the firms which already had announced price boosts.

Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara directed that wherever possible, procurement of steel for military purposes be shifted to companies which have not raised prices.

The secretary said he understood similar action was being taken by other government agencies.

The defence department decision was ordered by Kennedy as one of several steps to be taken by the administration against the steel firms.

In the aftermath of Kennedy's denunciation of big steel for its "irresponsible defiance" of the public interest, the justice department Thursday ordered a grand jury investigation to see if anti-trust laws were violated.

The first crack in the industry's hitherto united front came from Inland Steel Co.

The firm is the nation's eighth largest producer and has 4.4 per cent of the country's steel producing capacity.

It said it would not increase prices now because this was untimely in view of the national situation and the industry's competitive position. President Kennedy hailed this as "very good" news.

Edgar F. Kaiser, board chairman of Kaiser Steel, also said his company will not raise its mill prices at this time. He said "the company has recently completed a $25 million expansion program, doubling its capacity to serve the country and the growing west." Kaiser is the ninth largest producer.

BULLETINS

Strike Progress

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Balcer said today "we'll keep on talking" until the week-long St. Lawrence River pilots' walkout is settled.

He told reporters "progress was made" in a meeting this morning with a 10-member delegation representing shipping companies.

Islanders Lose

VANCOUVER (CP)—World curling champion Ernie Richardson of Regina scored on an extra end to edge Garnet Campbell of Avonlea, Sask., 13-12 in Vancouver's spring car bonspiel today.

In other matches Jim Conie of Calgary downed Glen Harper of Duncan, B.C., 16-7. Jim Shields of Calgary dropped Vancouver's Howie Christopherson 9-5 and Buzz McGibney of Rossland, B.C., defeated Trev Fisher of New Westminster 14-8. The losers were knocked out of the competition and only eight rinks now remain in the bonspiel.

No Evidence

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice F. K. Collins said today he could find no evidence that could convict accountant John Browning of the capital murder of his wife.

He told an Assize Court jury he could find no evidence of planning or premeditation in examination of the evidence. The judge earlier told the jury that there had to be evidence of this in a finding of guilty of capital murder.

FULTON SAYS

B.C. Stand On Columbia Modified

By FRANK BUTTER
The B.C. government has modified its stand on Columbia River power development, Federal Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton said today.

View: "I'm encouraged by this, this is what we have been negotiating for. My hope has been given rebirth that we shall be able to reach an agreement."

Mr. Fulton said the new B.C. proposals were made at a meeting of unidentified officials after Premier Bennett's Ottawa visit in March.

NO DETAILS
Mr. Fulton would not disclose any details, saying that B.C. and Ottawa have agreed to further negotiations.

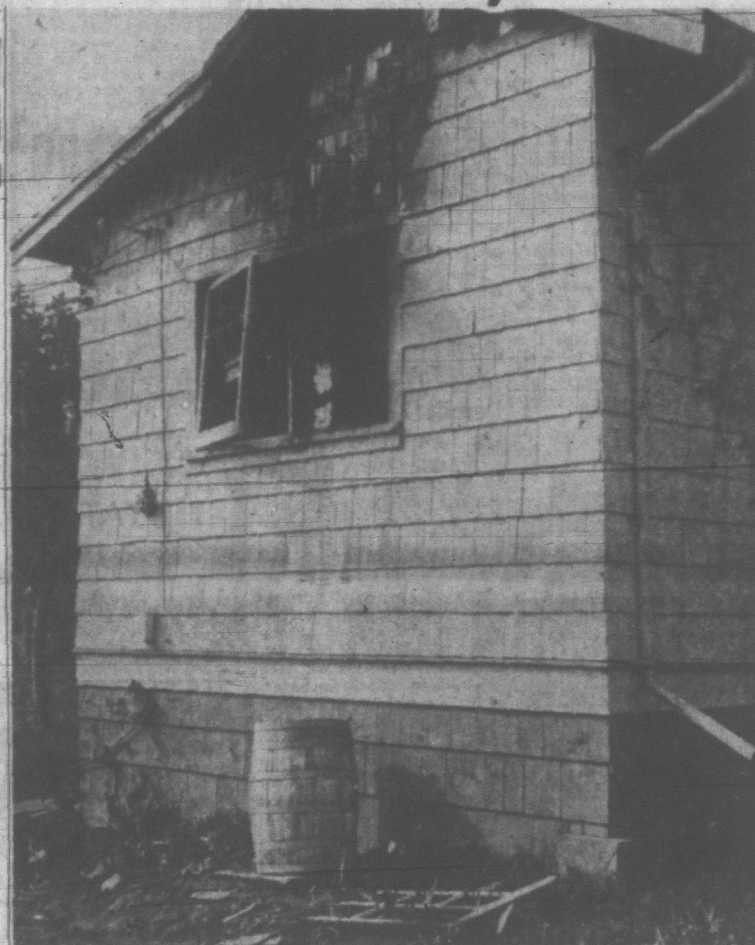

He said that an Ottawa-B.C. agreement must come before ratification of the Columbia treaty with the U.S. by Parliament.

Mr. Fulton would not say if the treaty can be ratified before Parliament is dissolved for a federal election.

Premier Bennett asked for this in a telegram to Ottawa Thursday.

"We will just have to see what our position is," Mr. Fulton said.

ESCAPE ROUTE FOR THREE

Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, were pulled to safety through the window although one is in just fair condition. Father, clad only in pair of trousers, trod through hot glass shards in rescue attempt.

ROYAL HAIR-DO

Wearing new hair style for first time in public Queen Elizabeth attends horse trials at Badminton, Eng. In new style some hair has been taken off the back and curls have come forward on the face. See page 21. (AP Wirephoto.)

Federal gov't stand now seems to be: We knew th' Columbia agreement wasn't any good, so we signed it.

Mister Diefenbaker an' th' election are like a feller goin' swimmin' off Dallas Road—he's jist shiverin' himself into it.

Father Fights To Rescue Tot

A nine-month-old boy was burned to death today as his frantic father fought to reach him through flames that ravaged their Helmcken Road home in View Royal.

Dead is Clemens Wertheim-Aymes, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lodewyk Wertheim-Aymes, 215 Helmcken, opposite View Royal Elementary School.

SEVERE BURNS

A daughter, Gilda, 9, is in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with second degree burns to the arms and head.

Safe are the parents and two other children, Meta, 10, and Clara, 6.

The fire started about 3:30 a.m. and burned out the interior in short order.

The home is uninhabitable and the family is staying with friends in Metcheson.

JUMPED OUT

It is understood Mrs. Wertheim-Aymes awoke first at the smell of smoke and awakened her husband. She jumped out of the bedroom window and ran around the house to the children's bedroom window.

Her husband followed. They put a barrel beside the wall, smashed the window and helped the children out.

First out was Meta, followed by Gilda and Clara.

Mr. Wertheim-Aymes tried to force his way through the window to get little Clemens, who was in a crib in the middle of the room, but roaring flames beat him back.

At this point members of the View Royal volunteer fire department arrived and fireman Frank Andrews, 236 St. James, forced his way in.

SAW SON DIE

Standing outside the house later in the morning Mr. Wertheim-Aymes said he "would rather not talk about it."

"I saw my own son burned while I was unable to save him," he said, "and that is a terrible experience."

It is understood the fire started at or near an oil range and quickly spread through the house.

Liquor Via Room Service For Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Robert Harris today announced that hotels in Ontario will be permitted to sell liquor in rooms.

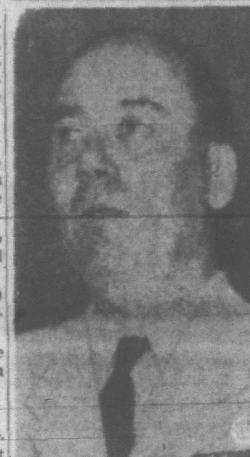

The premier's announcement covered about a dozen changes in the province's liquor policy.

The new regulations will permit cocktail bars to remain open for the same hours as dining lounges. Private clubs in dry areas may be licensed.

Tourist establishments in unorganized areas, motels and summer resorts will be eligible for licensing and arrangements will be made for the package sale of alcoholic beverages in summer resort areas.

Magazine Curb Set For Jan. 1

OTTAWA (CP)—The government proposes to prohibit the importation of special Canadian editions of foreign magazines starting Jan. 1, 1963.

Revenue Minister Nowlan gave notice today in the Commons Journals of a resolution leading to introduction of an amendment to the customs tariff carrying out the government's undertaking to implement part of the royal commission on publications recommendations.

The amendment would empower the cabinet to pass orders-in-council declaring what special editions of foreign magazines would be affected.

A second resolution said amendments would be made to the Income Tax Act disqualifying advertisers from any deduction from taxable income starting in 1963 for advertising in foreign magazines.

The second resolution added that deductions would be allowed "in part"—without specifying the amount—for advertisements placed in magazines edited in Canada but published under licence by a foreign publisher.

Periodicals with a circulation of less than 5,000 copies an issue and periodicals devoted to medical or religious subjects would be exempt from the new law if they were being printed, published and edited in Canada for one year prior to Jan. 22, 1962.

FEDERAL ELECTION

PM to Announce Date Next Week

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today said he would announce early next week his plans for dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

Diefenbaker, in another election indicator, also sent Opposition leader Lester B. Pearson a note inviting the Liberal leader to meet him this afternoon.

The Prime Minister's purpose presumably was to show Pearson the courtesy of letting him in on dissolution plans in advance.

June 18 is the expected date of the election, with dissolution coming any time between Monday and Wednesday.

Diefenbaker made his statement to the Commons after Vancouver East MP Harold Winch of the New Democratic Party pleaded for an indication so members representing areas 1,000 to 3,000 miles away from Ottawa could make travel plans.

Winch said these MPs should be given such information so they would know whether to make travel plans for an Easter recess, with Parliament resuming, or for dissolution and an election.

"I think I will be in a position early in the week to make a full statement on this question," so the honorable members will be able to do what the member suggests they do.

"I will answer his question in the fullest detail."

Diefenbaker's statement was greeted with extended desk-thumping from both sides of the Commons.

Meantime, government MPs Thursday night began open preparations for a June 18 federal election.

They gathered in an extraordinary election strategy session in the Commons' railway committee room, and made no effort to conceal their preparations.
